RUSSIA GETS THIRD OF ITALY NAVY

STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS
MAR 6- 1944
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that discussions were about half completed for transferring roughly one-third of the surrendered Italian fleet to Russia.

The President also told a press-radio conference that Edward R. Stettinius, Acting Secretary of State, would go to London soon to discuss with British officials a dozen or more questions awaiting solution.

He disclosed that the United States and Great Britain already were using some of the Italian tonnage that was surrendered with the capitulation of Italy, and that efforts now are being made to determine how many of these ships or their equivalent can be turned over to the Russian navy.

He said this was the question he had told previous press conferences that Marshal Stalin had brought up through his Washington ambassador. He described it as a rather old question and related to what ships or their equivalent would go to Russia.

He emphasized that so long as the war lasts the Allies will use everything afloat against the enemy, but that after the war that was something else.

Asked whether the ships would be manned by Italians, Mr. Roosevelt replied some may and some may not. As for Italian ships which escaped to the Balearic islands, the President said that was a Spanish problem.

He said that since Italy surrendered to the United States, Great Britain and Russia, it was thought advisable to distribute the Italian fleet roughly on a one-third basis to each. He would not say how much tonnage was involved.

As for Stettinius' trip, the President said the acting Secretary of State, accompanied by several assistants, would leave soon after Secretary Hull returns from a southern vacation. He said it would not be a full dress conference and that there would not be a headline in it.

Asked whether he would take up the question of the permanent committee in London created at the Moscow conference, he said that was one of a dozen things, but was not the top subject to be discussed.

Recent reports have said that the United States-British conferences would touch on political as well as economic problems.

Why I Quit Hitler

Nazi Slips Out, Volunteers For Allied War Service

Erich Vermehren, former assistant German military attache at Istanbul, recently made his way into Allied territory and volunteered for military service against the Nazis. Here Vermehren, in a statement made available to the Associated Press at Cairo, tells what prompted a confirmed follower of Hitlerism to change his basic pattern of thought and action.

By ERICH VERMEHREN

CAIRO, March 3—I am happy at last to be able to do something for Germany, and to join as a volunteer the ranks of those who have declared war against the bitterest enemies of Germany—the National Socialists (Nazis).

What made it most difficult for me to come to this decision was the fact that my step was essentially one dictated by conscience. It was much more than an honest political decision, more than a change from one party to another.

Both these considerations weighed with me, but beyond that my action was one that made me a criminal in the eyes of the law of my state and a dishonorable scoundrel in the hearts of many of my friends.

My political convictions, my personal ideas, my recognition of the hopelessness of Germany's situation—these alone could not bear the weight of such a decision.

It was only my conscience which could put me in the right, and which could acquit me of any accusation of high treason and treachery toward my fatherland. But is it high treason if one loves one's fatherland so much that one cannot stand by and see an unscrupulous clique ruining one's country?

That one cannot tolerate a weltanschauung (world philosophy) which grows like a cancer and destroys everything that is healthy in the body and fosters evil impulses?

That one cannot stand by and see the glorious name of one's country being dishonored by the wickedness of its present rulers?

That one cannot see its beauty suffering destruction as the inevitable result of their political greed and unscrupulousness while its

3d Nazi Anzio Smash Flops

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 3 (AP)—A strong German drive into the center of the Anzio beach head this week was described officially today as "a costly failure." Allied headquarters said defense positions remained intact, with all lost ground regained.

The enemy offensive, third large-scale attempt to drive American and British forces into the sea, has now collapsed. Two final German assaults with tanks and infantry late Wednesday were repulsed, and no new attacks came yesterday.

American troops of the 3d Infantry Division bore the brunt of the attack and scored "a complete defensive success."

Whether the enemy is regrouping is unknown, but a blistering air attack yesterday served as a strong deterrent.

The Mediterranean Allied air forces dropped about 40,000 fragmentation bombs from some 1600 planes.

Flying Fortresses, Liberators, medium, light and fighter bombers all participated, the attack being concentrated on the Carroceto-Velletri-Cisterna line. The German air force made no attempt to intercept.

In the final attack late Wednesday in their two-way offensive the Germans were forced to cross open country and Allied artillery tore huge holes in their ranks even before they neared the Allied lines. Subsequently, American troops wiped out a few minor infiltrations.

Snow, rain and heavy winds remained hampering factors in the main Fifth Army and Eighth Army sectors yesterday, but artillery duelling and patrolling continued.

SOLID ARROWS indicate Russian drives on Ostrov and in the Narva region where several heavily fortified Nazi strong points were captured. Broken arrows show possible future drives on Tallinn and Riga, capitals of Estonia and Latvia.

Mud Fails To Halt Red Drives

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 3 (AP)—Despite a freakish, spring-like thaw, the Red army is continuing its offensive to liberate the Soviet Baltic republics and has materially improved its positions.

Temperatures are almost as high as those of late April or May. Many roads are impassable.

Russian forces, nevertheless, captured more territory between Lake Peipus and the Finnish gulf and tightened their hold on Narva's communications, while in the suburbs of Pskov, Russian tommy-gunners inched forward in fierce fighting.

South of Pskov, other Red army forces were reported driving down the 12-mile-long highway from captured Soshikino toward Ostrov.

Georgetown Man Killed

GEORGETOWN, March 3—Pvt. Orin W. Woodman, 30, of North st., Georgetown, was killed in action on Feb. 2, the War Department today notified his wife, Mrs. Madeline McGlee Woodman.

FINNS MAY OFFER COUNTER PEACE PLANS

STOCKHOLM, March 3 (AP)—An indication Finland intends to offer counter-proposals to Russia's armistice terms came today from the Helsinki newspaper, Social Demokratti, mouthpiece for the Finnish Parliament's strongest political party.

Declaring at first glance the conditions for peace outlined by Moscow appeared "harsh and even cruel," the newspaper expressed the opinion they were "meant only to form the basis for further negotiation and that Finland will have a chance to express its own views."

The article, informed Finnish sources said, was inspired by the majority view of Parliament which gave the Finnish government a vote of confidence at a secret session Tuesday. The newspaper speaks authoritatively for the Social Democrat party.

(These expressions dovetailed with opinion in informed London quarters, which expected Finland ultimately to accept Russia's price, although reluctantly and only after making counter-proposals in an effort to surmount the difficulties arising from Nazi divisions still in Finland).

Execute 18 Dutch

STOCKHOLM, March 3 (AP)—The newspaper Dagens Nyheter said that 18 Dutchmen were executed within a week on charges of sabotage and spreading anti-German pamphlets.

Widen Our Grip On Admiraltys

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 3 (AP)—Headquarters disclosed today that the Admiralty Islands landing was a scouting expedition to probe Japanese strength but, after an inspection by Gen. MacArthur and a gallant stand later by outnumbered troops, a full-fledged invasion is in progress.

Strong reinforcements have been put ashore. From a beachhead a mile long and three quarters of a mile deep, they are fanning out from the quickly-captured Momote airdrome to engage the few thousand Japanese still holding the bulk of Los Negros island.

The island's key positions, the 5000-foot long airdrome and adjacent Hyane harbor, were overrun quickly Tuesday by the reconnaissance force landed under the shells of destroyers. While enemy snipers still presented a menace, Gen. MacArthur looked over the situation and said, "Hold on to what you take."

Wednesday, before dawn, the Japanese counter-attacked and were repulsed. That night and early Thursday, the Fifth Army cavalry regiment beat off Nipponese, withstood enemy mortar fire and clung to the thinly-manned perimeter about the airfield although outnumbered. Thursday the reinforcements started coming off the boats.

Headquarters reported today a series of air smashes.

Hansa Bay, New Guinea, was swept with fires started by 170 tons of explosives. To the south of there, airdromes at Madang and Alexishafen were blasted. Far to the northwest, a five-ship convoy was attacked by Liberators off Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and the largest vessel of 7000 tons was sunk.

At Rabaul, a 38-ton bombing Tuesday set ablaze two blocks of buildings near the wharf. Neutralization made possible the bold thrust at the Admiralties.

Both destroyers and planes struck at New Ireland. In the heaviest air action in weeks in the vicinity of the Bougainville island position of the Americans at Empress Augusta Bay, more than 130 Solomons-based planes hit Japanese positions with 76 tons of bombs.

Poll Pledged In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, March 3 (AP)—Return of Argentina to constitutional normality, with officials chosen by ballot and military leaders taking a back seat, was set forth today by Acting President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell as one of his objectives.

"We are in the government only temporarily," said Farrell, who took over the executive power a week ago.

Farrell told an Associated Press interviewer that Argentine foreign policy would remain unchanged, but emphasized that foreign policy "must logically be a consequence of domestic policy."

4 Face Death In Algiers Trial

ALGIERS, March 3 (AP)—The French concentration camp torture trial ended today with death sentences passed on four defendants.

Two others were sentenced to penal servitude for life, two to 10 years and two to 20 years. One was acquitted. The 11 had been charged with murder, cruelty or complicity in crimes at a Vichy camp for Foreign Legion men while acting as guards.

Greek Guerrillas End Civil War

CAIRO, March 3 (AP)—An agreement ending the civil war in Greece has been signed by the two warring bands of Greek Andartes, it was announced officially here today.

The guerrilla factions have agreed to devote their joint energies against the Germans.

Coin Brand

HELENA, Mont., March 3 (AP)—Corp. Lyle Ziemer of Dunnell, Minn., found a dime under the hide of a mule he was butchering at Camp Rimini war dog reception center.

Old timers said the insertion of a small coin under an animal's hide for identification was an early-day practice to thwart brand-changing thieves.

Forts Go Back Over Germany

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—American heavy bombers pounded Germany for the second straight day today, concentrating on undisclosed objectives in the northwest sector while medium Marauders slashed at German airfields in northern France.

RAF formations, taking to the air last night for their second successive night, had hammered aircraft factories near Paris and at Albert in northern France only a few hours before.

The U. S. bombers were escorted by fighters of both the Eighth and Ninth American Air Forces, as well as Allied fighters, an indication that the operation was of considerable size.

The widespread daylight smashes also included stabs at the French "rocket gun" sector by RAF fighter-bombers.

The RAF's operations, including Mosquito slashes at western Germany and mine-laying in enemy waters, were carried out without loss.

Mother of 8 Found Slain In Franklin

FRANKLIN, March 3—Sprawled across a bloodstained bed in her home, the bludgeoned and battered body of Mrs. Mary A. Boucher, 33-year-old mother of eight children, was found today by police who were summoned by the woman's daughter.

Across the room from the bed Patrolman Edward Dacey, found a bloodstained table leg which had been used as a club.

First word of the tragedy was given to Dacey when he met Marie Boucher, 16, who said she had been awakened by her father, Elder J. Boucher, 35, shortly after 5 a. m. and told to get the police.

Marie said she walked more than a mile to Franklin Center before she met Patrolman Dacey. Together they returned to the Boucher home where Dacey was directed to the bedroom where the dead woman's body lay.

Police said Boucher was being held for questioning and no details of how the woman met death were available yet.

Lieut. Detective William Delay of the State Police ordered an autopsy and a joint State and local police probe began.

The eight children of the couple who had been sleeping while their mother was beaten to death were taken by police to the Franklin infirmary. Police planned to question them later about any possible clues they might have to their mother's assailant.

The family came to Franklin only three months ago from Milford and police said they previously lived in Worcester.

ACADEMY AWARD WINNERS—Jennifer Jones, whose performance in "The Song of Bernadette" was judged by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as the best by an actress in 1943, and Charles Coburn, named best supporting actor, show their happiness . . . after they were announced "Oscar" winners. This is Jennifer's 24th birthday. (Story on Page 4.)

NOXON CASE WITNESS—Medical artist Etta P. Ramsdell of Newton, called as a witness in trial of John F. Noxon, told the court she had reproduced on the arms of a doll image of the dead infant, the marks of burns described to her by Dr. Alan Moritz. She testified she had not seen the baby, but worked from notes and photographs.

JUROR SICK, NOXON TRIAL IS DELAYED

By PAUL WHELTON AND PAULINE WARREN

PITTSFIELD, March 3—Juror James E. Cullen, a factory foreman of Pittsfield, was stricken with the grippe during the night, resulting today in adjournment of the Noxon baby death trial to Monday.

The adjournment was announced by Judge Pinanski, who said Cullen's illness was not serious and Dr. Harry H. Bard expected the juror to be well again by Monday.

Cullen, 54, and father of eight, was ordered to remain in bed at the Wendell Hotel, where the jury is quartered.

Delay in the trial resulted in Dr. Alan R. Moritz, State Police pathologist, and an expected Commonwealth witness, and Dr. Charles C. Lund, burns expert from Boston City Hospital, expected defense witness, departing for Boston.

Testimony at the trial of Atty. John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy corporation lawyer, charged with the electrocution murder of his six-month-old mentally defective son, Lawrence Swift Noxon, had reached the cross-examination of Police Capt. Camille Marcel.

Former Gov. Ely, chief defense counsel, had been hammering at a declared discrepancy in police measurements in the Noxon home "bookroom," alleged crime scene.

The ex-governor seized on Marcel's testimoyn relative to a damaged trouble light cord having been at least a foot distant from a metal tray on which the baby was resting when shocked to death.

To facilitate understanding of the testimony, Judge Pinanski had permitted counsel to clear space in the courtroom to set up a simulated arrangement of the bookroom furnishings as they were in the Noxon home.

Quins at Zoo

PITTSBURGH, March 3 (INS)—Quintuplets held the spotlight at the Pittsburgh zoo today.

The quins were born to "Dirty Nose," an abandoned carnival lion who has grown into one of the zoo's handsomest creatures.

The cub's father is "Hershey," a 4-year-old lion purchased from the Hershey zoo. He had three other cubs last month by "Daisy," the zoo's second female lion.

Grim Flight Of U. S. Forts Told by Lake

Berlin-Bound With New England's Own

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (by air transport)—The scene changes! This is a U. S. bomber base—a converted farm meadow where the Flying Fortresses nest. This is one of many airfields from which, daily, the heavies of the 8th Air Force take off, to meet and multiply, with their kind, over the English channel, and go on in clotted numbers to drop their ferocious freight on Germany.

Lieut. John G. Burke West Roxbury

Lieut. Louis M. Clay Milton

Capt. Richard R. Ketchum Marshfield

Sergt. John P. Robinson Malden

S/Sergt. Joe P. Hession Dorchester

Sergt. Nicholas W. Samson Milton

Until today I have only seen these gray ships as distant, sky-high specks, flying in formations like the chevrons on a sergeant's arm—echelons of lethal geese at which folk in the streets of English coast towns hook their thumbs with a satisfied, "Ah, there they go again, givin' it back to the Boche."

There is something inexorable about these vast bomber flocks which drone toward Germany—wave on wave, day after day, as geese fly in autumn.

I have been waiting in the airfield control tower—a wooden, two-story building that looks like a weather observatory, and is faced with glass panels on the field side.

A battery of technical sergents listens to the throaty, metallic voices of the squadron leaders, as they radio homing messages.

Propeller Gone

Yonder on a grassy pitch, is an early arrival, a bomber with its No. 2 engine flaming, and surrounded by a ground crew squirting chemicals into its cowling. Already the first of the Fortresses are straggling in—wide-winged and pencil-bellied birds, which lose their grace as they alight, and duck-waddle along the runways.

One comes with a propeller gone and a flat landing tire, firing a red flare as it veers into a side apron of concrete. Wounded men on board! "Notify the meat wagon" orders the control officer, without emotion. For he has seen too much tragedy to become excited.

An ambulance scoots toward the terminal and I go, too. The side hatch of the plane is open as I arrive, and medical men are helping a thickly padded figure to the ground. There are ragged holes in the Fortress' wings, gaps in the fuselage, and splintered glass in the "greenhouse."

The wounded man is a New England youth whom, as yet, I may not name. He holds a swab of cotton to his face, cotton that is a deep brilliant crimson. His leather jacket is dyed a deeper purple. His own blood!

But he makes no sound, exhibits no pain, and starts to walk mechanically toward the open back of the ambulance.

Radioman Hit

"Lay him down," orders the flight surgeon, taking the lad's hand away from his face, and examining the ghastly wound. The side of his head is laid open, showing glistening membrane tissue.

His eye is gone and the edges of skull bone show gruesomely through the welling wound. But he is conscious and mumbles something unintelligible.

"Will he live?" I whisper to the surgeon, and he shrugs noncommittally. The "meat wagon" rolls swiftly away with its mournful burden—a boy who came not long ago from the high, farming region of New England.

His radioman, a lanky, sandy-haired youth from Ohio, has been hit by splinters of flak anti-aircraft fire) in the leg and arm—gouges which the surgeon binds with lint.

The boy chews a cud of gum in rhythmic chin-chops and utters no sound except when the surgeon asks, "Hurt much?" and he says, contemptuously, "Naw." You

25 Missions And Bomber Crews Go Home

Auston Lake, Boston American war correspondent in Britain with New England's Berlin-bound fighting men, writes tomorrow of the "one impelling force" which keeps Flying Fortress crews going on missions as often as possible.

"It is the knowledge that when their 25th mission is done they will go home for three months — HOME, the magic word!" Lake reveals in another of his engrossing articles in the thrilling series.

Read Saturday's Boston American for this story of the resolution and courage of America's fighting men. Also there will be messages by boys from Putnam, Ct., Somerville, Watertown, Ipswich, Jamaica Plain, Cambridge, North Andover, Lawrence and many other New England communities.

Lepke, Death Held Off, Looks to High Court

By STEVEN WILLIAMS

OSSINING, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, assured of at least two more days of life by a last-minute gubernatorial stay, today looked hopefully to the highest court in the nation to keep him from the electric chair.

The one-time ruler of a vast cartel of crime, who was to have been executed last night with two aides for a 1936 slaying, was told in the Sing Sing prison death house 70 minutes before execution time that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had granted the trio a stay—until 11 p. m. (EWT) tomorrow—pending an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Warden William E. Snyder said Lepke, whose assorted and interrelated enterprises handled anything from extortion to murder-for-a-fee, was highly pleased at the news, although it was reported he had been coolly confident all along.

Charles D. Breitel, counsel to Dewey, released a statement in Albany saying Lepke's lawyer had advised him he had arranged to apply to the Sureme Court for a "writ of certiorari to be submitted at noon on Saturday, March 4.

The statement said that a stay had been asked for Lepke and the others—Louis (Boss) Capone and Emanuel (Mendy) Weiss — until "later this week."

Warden Snyder said that unless he received further word from the governor, he would put the three to death at 11 p. m. tomorrow.

Announcement of the stay followed by a few hours a surprise visit to the prison by Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who said he had conferred with Lepke —at Lepke's request—for 90 minutes.

For Lepke, Capone and Weiss, it was the sixth stay. They had received several reprieves during the long dispute between state and federal authorities over the custody of Lepke.

The fast-moving developments, however, did not affect the fate of Joseph Palmer and Vincent Sallami, who were executed on schedule for killing a detective.

Lepke's wife paid what she thought would be her last visit with her husband, and left the prison a few minutes before the stay was announced, apparently unaware of it.

LUKAS, NEW STAR ANNEX FILM 'OSCARS'

By JAMES LINDSLEY

HOLLYWOOD, March 3 (AP)—Moviedom's coveted "Oscar" awards for the best acting performances of 1943 are held today by Hungarian-born Paul Lukas, 48, and Oklahoma-born Jennifer Jones, 24, while "Casablanca" has the acclaim as last year's best film.

The famous little gold-plated statuettes, given each year by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and constituting the industry's top laurels, were awarded last night in Grauman's Chinese Theater before a glittering array of other hopeful acting candidates and 2048 fans who paid $11 admission each.

Miss Jones won the prize—by coincidence on her 24th birthday—for her peasant-girl performance in "The Song of Bernadette." She is a comparative newcomer to the screen.

Lukas' award was for his portrayal of the impassioned anti-Nazi in "Watch on the Rhine," a part he enacted previously on the stage.

Monocled Charles Coburn won the honor for the best supporting role by an actor by his performance in "The More the Merrier."

Katina Paxinou was adjudged the best supporting actress for her work as Pilar in "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

The best-direction accolade went to Michael Curtiz for "Casablanca."

Hal B. Wallis received the Irving Thalberg memorial award for consistent high quality of production.

Miss Jones, hatless and wearing a short Navy frock, accepted her Oscar tremulously. Warner Brothers annexed eight of the Oscars and plaques, while Twentieth Century-Fox was runner-up with seven.

Hunt Bodies of 2 Airmen in Ocean

Search was under way today off the Rhode Island coast for the bodies of two of the three-man crew of a U. S. Navy plane forced down at sea, according to an announcement from the First Naval District.

One body was recovered. The plane carried an officer and two enlisted men.

3 N. E. SOLONS ASK FOR HASTE ON VETS BILL

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 3—Three New England representatives today appealed to the House Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation for speedy action on the American Legion-VFW sponsored veterans' omnibus bill so the measure will be before the House simultaneously with a similar Senate bill.

Reps. Foster Stearns of Hancock, N. H.; Thomas J. Lane, of Lawrence, Mass., and Edith Nourse Rogers, of Lowell, Mass., jointly called on the committee to complete discussion of the bill and report it to the House by next week.

Meanwhile, the Senate sub-committee on veterans' legislation began a study of the omnibus bill, which was drafted at a meeting of representatives of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Francis M. Sullivan and Omer Ketchum, national legislative agents of the Legion and VFW respectively, handed the bill to the subcommittee, which is headed by Sen. Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, one of the founders of the Legion.

The CIO Maritime Committee, with headquarters in Washington, has forwarded to the Legion a copy of a letter sent to Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, chairman of the Senate finance committee, urging the committee to report the bill out as soon as possible and to prevail on the Senate for speedy enactment.

2-Point Fat Bonus Maintained by WPB

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Housewives will continue to get two ration points a pound for waste kitchen fats although fresh lard has been made point-free in March.

The War Production Board's salvage director, Herbert M. Faust, said waste fats are not needed to replace lard, but to replace vegetable oils.

Paraguay Acts In Workers' Strike

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—The Santiago radio, in a Chilean domestic broadcast reported by the Federal Communications, quoted reports from the Argentine-Paraguayan border today as saying that the Paraguayan army had "taken charge of Asuncion" because of "a workers' strike. Asuncion is the capital of Paraguay.

The broadcast added that the Army had taken over operations of Asuncion's street-car service.

Woburn Man Killed

Funeral services were planned today for Michael J. Kearns, 57, of Wright st., Woburn, who was killed in a leap from a Woburn city truck which rolled backward.

A Woburn city employe, Mr. Kearns is survived by a wife and six children.

DUKE, a 3-year-old English setter-beagle owned by John Melin of Arlington, is presented with a bronze medal, a leather collar and a huge bone in recognition of his outstanding feat in saving two children and a blind man from drowning in Alewife Brook, Arlington. Margaret Kearns of the Mass. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals makes the presentation.

Point Values Shift; Can Vegetable Cut

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A number of canned vegetables including tomatoes, peas and corn will have substantially lower point values beginning Sunday, but shoppers will have to give up considerably more ration points in buying canned fruits.

The ration cost of tomato and citrus juices also will be boosted in the March chart of processed food values, with grapefruit juice, point free during the last three months, back on the list at 1 point for a No. 2 can. Increased likewise are the point values on canned fresh lima beans, tomato catsup and grape juice.

OPA announced the new ration values today.

No change is made in the current values on frozen foods, preserves and jellies, dry beans, canned soups and baby food, but the revised chart gives point-free ratings to canned fresh-shelled beans, dry prunes, raisins, currants and mixed dried fruits.

The vegetable revision slashes the ration cost of a number 2 can of peas from 10 to 3 points. For the same size cans, point values on corn are cut from 8 to 6 points, tomatoes from 10 to 5 and asparagus from 15 to 10.

Fresh lima beans are hiked to 25 points for a No. 2 can (now 20 points) while tomato catsup goes from 18 points to 23.

The point value hikes on canned fruit, for No. 2½ cans. give peaches as well as pears a new value of 43 points, raised from 30; pineapple is increased seven points to a total of 43; cherries, exclusive of Maraschino, go from 27 to 36 points; fruit cocktail gets a new value of 43 points, up from 36.

For fruits in No. 2 cans, point values on apples are increased six points to 18, and applesauce is up five points to 25.

The hike on tomato juice is from three to six points for a No. 2 can.

New Ruling On Pay to Vets

Soldiers discharged because of dependency are entitled to mustering-out payments under a revised War Department ruling, Col. H. S. Ruth, Army finance officers of First Service Command, announced today.

The change will affect more than 1000 men from Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Massachusetts who had been turned down thus far, according to William P. Murray, administrative officer and assistant to Col. Ruth.

Murray said discharged soldiers whose earlier applications for mustering-out pay were rejected because they received dependency discharges are now eligible and they should resubmit their applications to the finance officer at 80 Federal st., Boston (10).

Playing Dead Saves Crew of Yank Tank

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

ENIWETOK ISLAND, Feb. 20 (delayed) (INS)—A gruesome tale of how two plucky Army tankmen saved their lives by playing possum while Japs kicked them and spat in their faces was revealed this morning.

The Army tank roamed ahead of infantry lines last night and was wrecked by American heavy artillery fire.

Tank Comdr. Sergt. Joe Crump, Paris, Ky., left two corporals with a dead companion and began a run through the Jap lines for aid.

Lieut. William A. Robson, Santa Barbara, Cal., whose infantry platoon finally reached the tank, said Sergt. Crump was fired on at least 20 times.

That was about 7 o'clock last night. When it got dark, the Japs began working on the tank. They tossed six grenades into the tank, and two corporals suffered severe leg and thigh wounds.

The grenades, however, failed to hurt the upper portion of their bodies.

The corporals gave each other morphine to ease the pain and began the night long "possuming."

The Japs mounted the tank and prodded the men to see if they were living. One Jap kicked the corporals' eyes and noses. Another sat on the lap of one and clapped his hands in front of his face.

But the two Americans grimly maintained their death pose, even though one was kicked so severely his eyes were puffed until he could no longer see.

Even when the Japs spat in their faces, the men remained frozen.

At 5 o'clock this morning American infantry forces reached the tank and found one corporal still able to walk, while the other mustered up enough strength to pull himself out of the tank turret.

LONERGAN JURY PANEL DISMISSED

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—General sessions Judge John J. Freschi announced today he would grant the motion of Asst. Dist. Atty. Jacob Grumet to dismiss the special panel in the trial of Wayne Lonergan for first degree murder.

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—A veteran white-haired jurist, referee in one of New York's most turbulent courtroom fights, held today the answer to whether Wayne Lonergan's first degree murder trial would continue or end in a mistrial.

Judge John J. Freschi, presiding at the young RCAF cadet's trial on charges of bludgeoning to death his heiress wife, Patricia, was to deliver his decision at the opening of the session today.

The legal problem was thrust upon the judge when Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet requested that he reconsider an earlier defense motion that the special jury panel be dismissed.

Shouted refusal of Lonergan's attorney, Edward V. Broderick, to join in the request touched off one of the most bitter of his repeated courtroom clashes with the wiry, slightly bald prosecutor.

Judge Freschi finally announced that if he could find legal precedent, he would grant the motion to dismiss the panel and would declare a mistrial.

The jury box still was empty, but members of the special panel jammed all available seats waiting to be questioned.

Grumet charged that defense counsel had caused publication of newspaper stories in after-court hours in order to bring favorable information to the attention of prospective jurors, and that these tactics made a fair trial impossible.

Broderick struck back with a statement that Grumet realized he already had lost the case and that he was hoisting "the white feather and white flag."

Yank Private Weds In Ulster Army Camp

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, March 3 (AP)—In the first wedding ever performed in a United States Army camp in Ulster, Pvt. Joseph Lane of Unionville, Mo., and Mary Ashwood, 18-year-old Belfast munitions worker, were married in an Army Nissen hut today.

Sixteen doughboys formed a guard of honor for the couple.

SPAR IN TRAINING—Alice McLoughlin of Natural History rd., Worcester, is now in training aboard the Coast Guard SPARship Biltmore at Palm Beach, Fla. When her course is completed, she'll be assigned to a job that will release a man for active duty.

MRS. MARION DeSIMONE

Mother Is Held In Abandonment Of 3-Year-Old Boy

While little Donnie DeSimone, the 3-year-old boy who was abandoned in a West End variety store, played in a foster home in Dorchester today, the wheels of justice began to grind out his future.

Displaying little emotion, his mother, Mrs. Marion Lewis DeSimone, pleaded not guilty in municipal court on charges of abandoning her 3-year-old boy and was remanded to Charles St. Jail when she could not raise the $500 bail.

Judge Tomasello continued her case to March 8, at which time the question of "Donnie's" future will be decided.

Meanwhile, her estranged husband, David DeSimone, Rockland shoe worker, who appeared in court, indicated he would make every effort to be given immediate custody of the child, whom the State Welfare Department placed in a Milton st., Dorchester, home.

He left with Police Sergt. Thomas McGrade for the Arlington st. subway to get the baby's clothing which Mrs. DeSimone had left in a locker, and police quoted him as saying he would then go to the division of child guardianship in the State House to arrange to have the child turned over to him.

A warrant was obtained against the murder yesterday after she was found wandering in City sq. and was identified as the mother of the boy.

One Fights for Life, Two Dead in Crash

WORCESTER, March 3—Mrs. Evelyn Gotha of Lakeside dr., Shrewsbury was in serious condition at Worcester Memorial Hospital today with injuries suffered in an auto crash on the Worcester turnpike in which two persons were killed.

The dead, John Bishop, 61, of School st., Northboro, and Mrs. Laura M. Conrad of Parker rd., Holden, lost their lives when their car crashed into the rear of a trailer truck.

Death of Miss Bessie Louise Sem, 29-year-old waitress of Albion st., Roxbury, whose body was found in a South End alley, was recorded officially today as due to natural causes, but investigation of the case is continuing.

Novena Begins Sunday

The annual novena of grace will open Sunday at St. Matthew's Church, Dorchester, and end Monday, March 13. Masses will be at 6:30, 7, 8 and 9 a. m. and novena services daily at 4, 5:30 and 7:45

DES MOINES, March 3 (AP)—State officials discovered a man and his wife on the social welfare assistance rolls had $2800. Both were in their 90's. "Why didn't you spend the money to support yourselves?" They were asked.

"We were saving it for our old age," was the reply.

Boy Quad Dies of Cold, Mother 'Not Too Well'

HEANOR, Derbyshire, England, March 3—Nora Rose Carpenter was distressed today by the death of MacDonald, youngest of her quadruplets born Monday, but her first thought was of their soldier-father—that he had to be notified and that it would be a blow to him.

In her home, she told interviewers quietly:

"I must write out a telegram to tell Red that the youngest is dead. It will be a shock to him."

With a pink jacket about her shoulders as she sat up in bed, Nora put her story into three simple words—"I love Red."

"Red" is Staff Sergt. William Thompson, Pittsburgh, Pa., who both the girl's mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, and Miss Edith Matthews, nursing home superintendent, said is the babies' father.

Thompson visited the 23-year-old former member of the British Auxiliary Territorial Service last night.

He had come here on leave to see her and remained in the home of her parents until early this morning.

BARS DIVORCE—Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, wife of the soldier-father of quadruplets born to an unwed miner's daughter in England, is shown with her family in Pittsburgh. In group are Eleanor's brothers, Frank Jenemann, Jr., and Robert Jenemann (center), and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenemann. Mrs. Thompson refuses to divorce her husband.

Grandparents Chat With Mother of Quadruplets

Associated Press Wirephoto

Referring to Nora's condition, which was reported as "not too well," he later sent a wire, Mrs. Carpenter stated, saying:

"Don't worry. Everything's going to be all right."

DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

MacDonald, weighing only three pounds, had suffered from a cold. While his condition had caused some anxiety, only last night he was reported showing some improvement. Doctors had been feeding him small doses of brandy along with his regular diet of sterilized milk and glucose.

A hemorrhage was the immediate cause of death, a matron at the nursing home where the babies are being cared for said. The other three babies, a boy and two girls, are doing well.

Nora said she met Thompson Dec. 16, 1942—"the first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England. I knew he was married right from the first, but it was just one of those things.

They met at a dance, she said. She was wearing her ATS uniform and, "Red was, oh, so handsome."

"From then on, we met quite often. Soon, we knew we were in love and here's something I want to make very clear: Just the moment Red knew we were in love, he asked his wife for a divorce, but she said she wouldn't give it to him on religious grounds.

"We tried to break it up on account of her but we couldn't. We tried to quit going together but we couldn't.

"Of course, we hope she'll change her mind now that she sees Red has all these responsibilities.

"As soon as we knew we were going to have a baby, we went together to my Auxilary Territorial Service officer and swore to Red's paternity. We had nothing to hide. Everyone in town knew I was single, and it would be foolish for me to pretend that I'm not. I never claimed to be married.

"I feel he has been fair with me."

"Do you still want to marry him?" she was asked.

"Yes, I do," she replied.

"Does he still want to marry you?"

"Yes."

PLANS FOR BABIES

A few hours before MacDonald's death Nora had talked optimistically of her plans for the babies and her hopes for eventually marrying the American and, after the war, settling in Alaska.

Nora's mother, a munitions worker, also expressed hope her daughter might be married "for the children's sake."

Like all the townspeople, who showed little concern over the paternity of the babies, Mrs. Carpenter was friendly and cheerful in greeting reporters who descended on this little Derbyshire village.

The Carpenters live in a combination store building and residence, and Mrs. Carpenter said the father of the quads was waiting there in an adjoining room when the children were born. He saw all four before rejoining his outfit, she added.

"Nora and I have a thousand plans," Thompson said in an interview after returning to his Army camp.

"I'll work like hell for those kids and Nora," he declared. "I'll go back to my job as a photographic printer after the war and make money so I can give them all they want. Nora and I are thinking of applying for my government's settlement scheme in Alaska."

(In Pittsburgh, Thompson's wife was reported in seclusion and her mother, Mrs. Jenemann, was quoted as saying the family had "no definite proof" that Thompson was the father of the quads.

("Until we have definite proof it is Eleanor's husband I feel we shouldn't talk about it," Mrs. Jenemann said. Asked if Mrs. Thompson would give her husband a divorce, she declared the family had been advised by an attorney not to discuss the case until the quads' father is "definitely" identified, but added:

("We are Catholics and it is against our religion to divorce. But Eleanor is over 21 and she'll have to make her own decision." Later, however, Eleanor's father said flatly, "We are not applying for a divorce. We are not going to do anything. Let him sweat it out."

(Advices from Washington, meanwhile, quoted a U. S. War Department spokesman as saying that the remaining three of the babies will be eligible for a dependency payment of $70 a month if their father is an American soldier and acknowledges them as his children. The monthly payment is $30 for the first child and $20 for each additional one.)

Britain Seeks More Births

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—A royal commission set out today in quest of a solution to Great Britain's declining birth rate, described as "one of the most somber anxieties of the times."

The commission expected to interview a representative number of women who have been married since 1918, when the decline in the birth rate began.

More children were born in 1942 than in any year since 1918, but a commission member said this was just a "wartime development."

"Unless something can be done the situation will be very serious in 40 or 50 years," a commission directive said.

The commission includes a viscount, two women of title, one housewife, two professors and a historian.

Soldier to Learn Date of Execution

Army Air Corps Pvt. Francis V. J. Gricus, 25, of Waltham, was taken to the death house in Charlestown State Prison today, after a Middlesex superior court jury found him guilty of first degree murder in the "punch slaying" of Mrs. Lillian Parent, 37-year-old, 80-pound mother of three children.

Sentenced to death by Judge Francis J. Good, Gricus will learn the date of his execution when court convenes again on Monday.

Gricus' fate was decided by the jury in one hour and 35 minutes, one of the quickest first degree murder verdicts ever returned in the Massachusetts courts.

The soldier, who addressed the jury briefly, stating in a clear voice, "I did not kill this woman," showed no emotion when sentence was pronounced.

Wilfred Parent, husband of the victim, was in court at the time, but Gricus' mother, who had attended the trial faithfully, earlier had been led weeping from the room after testifying in his defense.

Mrs. Parent's criminally attacked and badly beaten body was found in a Waltham playground last Nov. 28. Gricus was on the last day of a furlough from a Seattle, Wash., Army Air Force station.

Hold Handyman In Library Killing

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) —A bit of unswept dust was blamed by capital police today for the bludgeon slaying of Catherine Cooper Reardon, attractive 37-year-old librarian at Washington Cathedral, the burial place of Woodrow Wilson and other notables.

Julius Fisher, 34, Negro handyman, was arrested in an obscure restaurant after a whirlwind search for the perpetrator of Washington's second sensational killing within a fortnight.

Following police announcement of a confession Fisher was arraigned before a U. S. commissioner on a first degree murder charge and pleaded innocent.

Maj. Edward J. Kelly, chief of police, said Fisher had admitted fatally beating and choking Miss Reardon Wednesday night after he learned she had complained that he had not swept the dust from beneath her desk.

Gas Tax Revenue Slumps $3,500,000

Massachusetts gasoline tax revenue slumped more than $3,500,000 last year, according to an announcement by State Tax Commr. Henry F. Long, the largest drop in a general revenue drop of more than $5,500,000 over the state's income for the preceding year.

Only bright spot in the overall deficit was an increase of nearly $149,000 in revenue from the 1943 cigarette tax.

Contest in Oratory Warmly Endorsed By Staley College

Enthusiastic endorsement of the John Paul Jones oratorical contest was given today by Dr. Delbert M. Staley, president of Staley College of the Spoken Word, as his school entered the competition.

"Although our numbers have been greatly reduced by the war, as in the case of other colleges, we are happy to take part in such a worthy contest," declared Dr. Staley.

The roster of competing colleges already includes Simmons and Boston University.

STUDENTS PREPARE

Boston public and parochial high school students have begun preparations for the contest, which boasts Adm. Ernest J. King, American fleet commander-in-chief, as honorary national chairman.

The Rev. William J. Daly, diocesan supervisor of parochial schools, and Dr. Arthur L. Gould, Boston public school superintendent, have given their hearty approval to the entry of students.

Unanimous endorsement of the competition has been given by the Boston School Committee and the members willingly accepted invitations to serve on the local group and the committee directing the nationwide contest sponsored by the Boston American, Daily Record and Sunday Advertiser.

The school board consists of Dr. Patrick J. Foley, chairman; Michael J. Ward, Joseph C. White, Daniel J. McDevitt and Clement A. Norton.

WAR BONDS OFFERED

Twin sets of war bond prizes totaling $20,000 are being offered as national awards, topped by a grand prize of $1000 for each division winner, plus trips to Washington and Annapolis, Md.

Boston entrants will compete for local prizes in each division, ranging from $100 each to the first place winners downward to $25 each for contestants placing third, fourth, fifth and sixth. All contestants reaching the Eastern zone elimination will receive special $50 war bond bonuses.

In summing up his famous battle against the Drake, Jones wrote:

"Humanity starts back from such scenes of horror and cannot sufficiently execrate the vile promoters of this execrable war. The awful pomp and dreadful carnage of a sea engagement afford ample subject for melancholy reflection to the contemplative mind."

Local Prizes

COLLEGE DIVISION

$100 first prize.
$50 second prize.
$25 third prize.
$25 each fourth, fifth and sixth prizes.

HIGH SCHOOL DIVISION

$100 first prize.
$50 second prize.
$25 third prize.
$25 each fourth, fifth and sixth prizes.

All prizes are to be in war bonds.

11 U. S. Fliers Rescued in Alps

BERNE, Switzerland, March 3 (AP)—The German news agency DNB said today that 11 American fliers had been rescued out of more than 100 claimed shot down in the snow-clad Alps of eastern Austria last week while raiding Germany.

The agency named the 11 as follows (addresses unavailable):

Leiuts. Marturano, Voskov (first name unavailable), Charles Olsen and Joseph Panuha; Sergts. Ernest Henderson, Dunlop (first name unavailable), Charles Wilkins, John Wilkins, John Norton, Philip Ashork and Paul Behn.

The German report said the men had parachuted to a lower level than their companions, most of whom had landed at altitudes where they could not be reached.

N. E. SOLONS ASK POSTWAR AIR RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—New England Republicans in the House today envisioned postwar super highways and airways that would overcome traffic bottlenecks on the ground and make Boston a prime air terminal in the future.

The delegation signed a petition to be presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board asking permission for major air lines to serve Boston, Republican Floor Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said.

The action was taken on the plea of Arthur H. Tully, Jr., director of the Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission, who presented the arguments of Boston business interests, the State of Massachusetts, and the Rhode Island State Legislature.

The minority floor leader pointed out that Boston is the closest major East Coast city to Europe "and should be the hopping off place for transatlantic air travel after the war."

The applications of scores of big and little airlines for service to and from New England now are pending before the CAB, and a hearing into the Boston service question will be held later this month.

The delegation talked over road building plans with Herman A. MacDonald, Massachusetts Public Works commissioner; William J. Cox, superintendent of public works in Connecticut, and State Rep. Edward W. Staves of Southbridge, Mass.

Devens to Get German Prisoners

Manpower shortages in New England wood pulp and other labor projects soon may be alleviated by German prisoners of war, who will be sent to a base prison camp being constructed at Ft. Devens. Additional camps are planned for this region.

Col. Harold G. Storke, of Hull, prominent Boston attorney prior to entering the service and a former director of internal security of the First Service Command, will be in charge of the camp.

Once in operation, the Devens prison camp is expected to serve as a base for other New England prisoner-of-war camps.

All the prisoners will be enlisted men with the possible exception of medical officers or a chaplain. They will be paid 10 cents daily for general camp maintenance work and 80 cents additional daily for outside work, which will be paid in canteen credits.

Civilian employers will pay the prevailing "local wage" to the government for the prison labor and any excess over the 80-cent pay will go toward defraying the camp cost.

Grover M. Conzet, general inspector of the U. S. Forest Service, said yesterday the prisoners expected at Devens were "sound physically" and "willing to work."

He emphasized that proper training was necessary to realize the best from the prisoner-of-war labor in the pulp wood industry.

Lisp Logic

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 3 (INS)—An alert copy-reader on the Illinois State Journal couldn't believe it—the reporter's story of the theft of 2C25 pigs.

"That's a lot of pigs," he growled, and called the farmer.

"Was it 2025 pigs that were stolen?

The farmer replied:

"Yeth."

"Thanks," said the copy-reader and corrected the copy to two sows and 25 pigs.

Lake

notice that the doctor's jacket also glistens with slippery red.

The rest of the crew, all leather-quilted men in fur-lined boots, unhook their parachute harness and light cigarettes. They do not cluck their tongues or whisper in a tragic huddle, merely trudging off to the "Interrogation Room" with a fatalism born of their craft, knowing that their turn may come tomorrow.

Over the door of the I. R. a legend reads, "The deeds of the men who pass through these portals shall endure after the walls have crumbled to dust." A sententious formula!

From the plane's navigator, a blocky youth of 23, I learn what happened. The ship was flying in tight formation over the German Ruhr, which in the grisly humor of the airforce is known as "Happy Valley" (for its concentration of flak fire). "Th' stuff was so thick you coulda walked on it," says the navigator.

A scant half-hour from the target area—Frankfort—a burst of flak sheered through the pilot's compartment, and cut glancingly across his face.

It carried away the frontal part of his skull, part of his cheekbone, and his left eye. But it didn't knock him out.

So, while the navigator came forward to render first aid, the co-pilot whipped the plane back into formation and carried his morbid burden on. For the bomber's code permits nothing short of obliteration to deter it from dropping its eggs on the target.

So the boy had ridden it out—five hours of it—while holding a lint swab to the gap in his head, and sucking life giving oxygen at the rarefied heights through a makeshift tube.

Two other Fortresses of the squadron did not return from the raid. Nobody knew what happened. They just disappeared! The intelligence officer shrugged grimly and told me, "We don't know yet." Expendables! Material of war!

The Interrogation Room is a Nissen hut with 12 tables, benches on four sides of each. And as fast as the crews landed they came in—youths who looked like woodsmen on a holiday, clad in a rough mixture of warm clothing, and hunching around the interrogating officer like schoolboys for an oral examination.

Bombs Hit Mark

There were contour maps in bright colors on the table, and they pointed to areas where the flak seemed thickest. Did they see any fighters? A dark, skinny youth said, "Yeh, but our own drove them off."

Did they see their bombs hit? And a ruddy belly gunner said, "I saw a spurt of flames like they hit on gas tanks." They munched ginger cookies big as kiddy-car wheels, and sipped hot cocoa.

There were Greater Boston and New England boys here—as they are everywhere in England. Staff Sergt. Joe P. Hession of 17 Bullard st., Dorchester, an aerial photographer who used to be a pharmacist for Pete Eceman's Cottage Drug store, and graduated from Dorchester High in '29. And 1st Lieut. John G. Burke of 530 Weld st., West Roxbury, pilot of the Fortress, named "Short Stuff" after its original captain, Bert Short of Hartford. John has completed more than 15 of his required 25 missions. (He graduated from M. I. T. in '38 in metallurgy.)

Emden Toughest

"Bombing Emden was my toughest," he said. "The Focke-Wulf's came over us in mosquito swarms and the flak was so thick that the sky looked like German measles. My ship came back fuller of holes than a kitchen skimmer."

And Sergt. Ralph V. Johnson of 24 Montrose st., Roxbury, the right waist gunner on the plane "Spot Remover," who belonged back home to the Washington Lodge of Masons, of which Guy Northrup was Master, and who has a filial fondness for his aunt, Mrs. Doris, and his uncle Howard Walls.

And Sergt. Nicholas W. Samson of 2 Chilton Park, Milton, a radio maintenance man, who came from Boston Trade in '38, and remembers the cruises he took with Joe Martin in his little home-built cabin-job.

And 1st Lieut. Louis M. Clay of 358 Central ave., Milton, the 1942 captain-pitcher of Harvard's baseball team, who as engineering officer of the depot keeps 'em flying.

And another Harvard baseballer, Capt. Richard R. Ketchum of Union st., Marshfield, a supply officer, who pitched for the Hawvuds in '29, and between times, was merchandise manager for Remicks department store of Quincy. I have a personal, pleasant report for his wife Rhode (Gilpatrick) when I get back.

And Sergt. John P. Robinson of 560 Fellsway East, Malden, who was a copy boy for the Boston Globe, skied with his pal, Joe McNall, and took a pre-med course at St. Lawrence U. of Canton, N. Y.

Red Cross Cites Leaders

Five suitably inscribed Red Cross flags were to be presented today to section chairmen reporting the greatest progress in the first official accounting of donations to the 1944 fund drive, during a Dutch Treat luncheon at the City Club.

Early reports from the 30,000 workers canvassing Greater Boston in the campaign to collect $4,641,000 have been encouraging but Chairman Charles F. Rowley already has issued a warning that amassing this area's share of the national drive for $200,000,000 will not be easy.

Chairman Rowley will preside at today's first report luncheon and will present the flags, which have been inscribed with the words:

"Award of Merit, 1944 Red Cross War Fund."

Principal speakers at the luncheon will be Lieut. Gladys K. Meister, Army nurse, who returned recently with American casualties aboard the hospital ship, Acadia, and Edgar V. M. Gilbert, former food administrator for the Red Cross in North Africa.

Lieut. Meister will tell the story of the Red Cross in action among wounded soldiers with blood plasma and other services while Gilbert will recount his experiences in the North African sector.

Fighting Marines, all wounded in action and wearers of the Purple Heart and other decorations, are in Boston to aid their drive and their comments are typical of the reaction of service men to the work of the Red Cross on America's far flung fronts.

"They treated me royally," says Maj. Robert J. Litten.

"Their plasma kept me alive," added Mess Sergt. Charles R. Kelly, of Freeman ave., Roxbury.

"Plasma saved me, too," chimed in First Sergt. Charles Morris, of Lawrence.

Woodring Due Here on Tour

Anti-administration Democrats looked forward today to the week-end visit of former Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring as a rallying point for New England's drive against 16 years for President Roosevelt.

Woodring, chairman of the American Democratic National Committee, organized in Chicago last month, is swinging around the country lining up opposition to a fourth term and expects to arrive tomorrow night for his week-end visit to Boston.

Prominent anti-administration Democrats will confer with him during his stay. Chief among them is former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, favorite son candidate of the state's anti-administration Democrats, at present leading defense counsel in the Noxon murder trial at Pittsfield.

The Veterans' Friend

Q—I received a "blue" discharge from the Army, despite the fact I served seven months in the Pacific theater of operations. I had no opportunity to protest the type discharge and being anxious to get home to see my folks after two years I didn't care what color it was. Now I have discovered that it was unjust and I am deprived of veteran benefits. What can I do?

S. W., Portsmouth, N. H.

A—A bill is now pending before Congress which if passed will allow you to appeal your type of discharge. The legislation provides that a Board of Review be set up to investigate any complaints regarding discharges.

Q—Is there any organization in Boston where a veteran disabled and capable of doing only certain types of work may apply for a job? T. D., Somerville.

A—The Military Aid and Pensions Departments in the State House under direction of Commissioner Rea Long have a list of several positions which might be suitable for you. Also assisting in such a program are the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans. All three have headquarters in the State House.

Q—Since being discharged from the Army six months ago, I lost my discharge papers. I am making application for a state Civil Service position and need a record of my military service. Where can I get a copy? D. McC., Allston.

A—You can obtain a copy of your service record if you enlisted from Massachusetts at the Adjutant General's office, State House. A copy of your Army discharge may be had by writing Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Wash., D. C.

(All letters addressed to Veterans' Friend, Boston Record-American, will be answered in this column unless an answer is desired by mail in which case enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

Man Freed in Chicago Gang Killing, Shot

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP)—John J. Williams, one of three men acquitted last December on a charge of murdering Martin (Sonny Boy) Quirk in a ganugland war for control of gambling on the South Side, was shot and seriously wounded today as he drove alone in his automobile on a South Side street.

Why I Quit

blood senselessly soaks foreign soil?

The man who loves his fatherland must be able to recognize national socialism for what it really is—the curse of Germany.

National socialism seduces our youth to loss of faith, to brutality and to lack of respect for moral values.

It despises the sanctity of the family by its conception of marriage ties and marriage laws and its completely immoral and disintegrating attitude toward questions of illegitimacy.

It mocks and despises our Christian church and deprives it of its influence on youth in order to be able to preach a new morality which brutalizes every boy and endangers every girl.

It has lied to us for 20 years. It has abused our confidence. It has embezzled our property in senseless expenditures on behalf of the party and in disastrous political speculations.

It has suppressed our spirit. It has made us dishonest through fear. It has outraged our personal liberties through the compulsory control of the exercise and place of our professions, prohibitions of changes of employment, compulsory membership in organizations and the like.

In this way national socialism has deprived us in our own country of honor, of liberty and of property.

We are not threatened with slavery from without, but from within our country. The ideals of the enemy we oppose in arms are nearer to our own than those of our own government.

I have most unexpectedly found deep sympathy with the decisions of my own conscience on the part of British officers. I look forward with great hope for Germany to close co-operation with the Allies.

2 Firms Face WLB Fines

Economic sanctions totaling $2000 have been recommended against the Mellin-Quincy Mfg. Co., Whitefield, N. H., and the Brown Construction Co., Portland, Me., for alleged violation of wage stabilization laws, according to regional Atty. Allan T. Tepper, of the New England War Labor Board.

Tepper said the enforcement division recommended a $1500 penalty against the New Hampshire concern for granting a general increase to employes and installing a seven per cent attendance bonus without WLB approval.

Sanctions of $500 were recommended against the Brown company for paying common labor in excess of 75 cents hourly.

Boy Reunited With Lost Dog Eats Again

HARBOURTON, N. J., March 3 (AP)—Reunited and happy, a boy and his dog are eating again.

Stanley Hoffman, 8, was so sad he wasn't able to eat his meals after his great Dane, Jatta, wandered off on Washington's birthday.

Jatta finally was found in a barn on a farm 17 miles away and Stanley's father, B. L. Hoffman, an aircraft engineer, said the pet appeared to have been without food a long time.

Yesterday, boy and dog started to make up for lost time on rations.

Here's New Point Chart Effective Sunday

Gardens, Canning Credited For Cuts

Point values of several important canned vegetables will be lower for the period March 5 through April 1, but ration values of canned fruits will be sharply higher, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said today.

"Ration values of three of the most popular canned vegetables were sharply reduced—tomatoes by half, peas by more than two-thirds, corn point values also were substantially reduced.

"Full credit is due victory gardeners and home canners. They did a magnificent job last year," said Bowles.

"We hope more victory gardens are grown this year. The nation will need all the food it can produce. And future ration points depend on our 1944 victory gardens. It will be possible to keep ration points at, or even near, present levels only if food output this year is greater than ever before, and if home canners and commercial packers top their record packs of last year."

Principal changes in the new consumer point tables are:

REMINDER

Use War Ration Book Four for processed foods.

Blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, and E8—worth 10 points each—good through May 20. Blue stamps—worth 1 point each—may be given as change.

Green stamps K, L, and M—worth 8, 5, 2, and 1 points—good through March 20. Green 1 point stamps or blue tokens may be used as change for these stamps.

Use Your Green Stamps First. Then You Will Have Only 10-Point Stamps and 1-Point Tokens to Handle.

Starting March 21, only blue stamps and blue tokens will be used for processed foods.

Tokens and 10 point stamps make it easy to buy rationed foods.

Use of tokens saves time and work.

PROCESSED FOOD STAMPS MUST BE GIVEN UP FOR ONLY THE ITEMS WHICH APPEAR ON THIS CHART

Let Russia Intercede

WE MUST get our soldier sons out of the clutches of their Japanese captors and tormentors.

We must do everything in our power to lessen the sufferings of these lads—our own flesh and blood—and to insure them more humane treatment.

We cannot countenance by silence or condone by inaction the continued abuse of American civilians who have similarly fallen into Japanese hands.

We must move with all the power and ingenuity of our country and government.

This poses an all-important question.

What can we do?

WE CAN APPEAL TO RUSSIA AND ASK HER TO SERVE AS INTERMEDIARY IN NEGOTIATIONS LEADING TO THE EXCHANGE OF BOTH CIVILIAN AND MILITARY PRISONERS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

As the Daily Record said Thursday, "our relationships and associations with Russia are ideal for this purpose.

"Russia's relationship with Japan is almost equally ideal."

Consequently, there is every reason why Russia should be perfectly willing and even anxious to offer her services in this purely humanitarian cause, when by doing so she would earn our gratitude and at the same time give no offense to Japan, with which Russia has a treaty of friendship.

Our American Government should make its wishes known to Russia in this regard WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY.

Russia, as the Daily Record also said, "cannot be expected, and of course should not be asked, to jeopardize Russian interest in the Pacific."

But Russia's position in that theater of the global conflict, which was precarious at the outbreak of the war, is immeasurably improved today.

HENCE THE WAY IS OPEN FOR RUSSIA TO INTERCEDE IN BEHALF OF AMERICAN PRISONERS WITHOUT RISK OR HARM TO HERSELF.

It goes without saying that such an act on the part of Russia would bring great happiness to the American people, particularly to the thousands who have sons and loved ones in the Orient.

And it should also be cause for abundant satisfaction to the Russian people themselves.

Naturally, we cannot appeal to Japan, which is our ruthless enemy and bitterest foe.

But we can and most certainly should appeal to Russia, which is our formal ally in the European war.

Time was never more important. Every day of delay may be the last day for Americans in Japanese prisons. Every day of delay may be a new day for outrages like those recently disclosed by the War Department.

Our American Government should therefore address a hopeful and earnest plea to Russia—with, as the Record warned, "THE FULL REALIZATION THAT IT IS OUR BEST AND PERHAPS SOLE HOPE OF DELIVERING OUR STARVING AND TORTURED AMERICAN BOYS FROM THE JAPANESE MURDERERS."

A New War Casualty

MARRIAGE seems destined to become one of this war's principal casualties in the United States.

According to Judge Joy Seth Hurd of Cleveland, O., divorces will reach an all-time high this year unless there is some definite turn in events.

Addressing a recent conference at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., Judge Hurd recently said:

"The divorce tempo matches the increase in the war tempo."

And he went on to list as the primary causes of divorce the participation of wives and mothers in industry and the prosperity stemming from the war effort.

Judge Hurd also condemned the widely publicized Hollywood divorces which, he said, set an "extremely bad example."

No doubt he is right. When a woman who never took her marriage vows very seriously obtains employment at inflated wages in a war plant and consequently becomes financially independent, she is a likely candidate for a quick and easy divorce.

And that leads to another question. WHY SHOULD DIVORCES BE QUICK AND EASY?

Judges who sever marriage ties in mass production fashion cannot escape their share of the blame for the divorce evil.

Attorneys who make divorce a profitable business are certainly open to rebuke.

And short-sighted law-makers who have gone to such extremes of leniency that a frown on a husband's face is regarded in some States as sufficient grounds for his wife's divorce are equally culpable.

Anything that can be obtained without pain or effort will always be attractive to irresponsible people.

That is as true of divorce as it is of everything else.

On the Side

I loved him too,
As woman loves,
Reckless of sorrow,
Sin, or scorn.
—LETITIA LANDON.

SOME WOMEN love "reckless of sorrow, sin or scorn" and some do not. Some women love with their hearts only and some let their heads dictate to their hearts. Right now our Horses & Women Department has no data on what the percentage is of women who love with their heads rather than with their hearts, but the belief is that this type of woman is increasing. Astrologers claim Capricorn women, in particular, are more inclined to use their heads than their hearts in love.

SEVENTY-ONE PER CENT of the Carnegie endowment funds are in United States government bonds. The shrewd investors in this fund have been shifting gradually over to U. S. government bonds for about eight years. So when you buy a war bond you can feel you not only have done your patriotic duty but have made a good investment . . . "Mongrel Dog Spreads Alarm of Fire: Saves Three Lives," states headline. It seems as if every story you read of a dog hero it is a mongrel dog. Don't pure bred dogs ever save any lives with fire warnings? The general impression is that mongrels are smarter than pure breeds. I don't think that it is so.

WOMEN, ETC.: Detroit wife says her Army husband writes her "marvelous love letters" and adds: "They reassure me. I know he loves me, but still I need to have him tell me regularly." (File No. 187D, section 22. Paragraph 8 of our Horses & Women Department states: "Women must be reassured of their husbands' affections at regular intervals. Five times a day is not too much."

ASIDES: The Germans would rather let the forces of the United States and Great Britain march unmolested to Berlin than to surrender to the Russians. Keep this in mind when you are doing your war news interpreting . . . Chicagoan says his parents had 14 children: ten boys, four girls. Seven of these children are in the armed services. This country owes a lot to the people who never paid any attention to birth control.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—As one who has a Navy man for a sweetheart, will your Mules & Men Department enlighten me frankly on the chances of love continuing to bloom through long separations by great distances? A—"Absence is to love what wind is to a fire: it puts out the little, it kindles the great." So stated Roger de Bussy-Rabutin. The research of our Mules & Men Department indicates Monsieur de Bussy-Rabutin was exactly right. It all depends on the intensity of the affection.

SAYS SHE: "As to accomplishing an amount of housework in one day," writes a St. Clair, Mich., subscriber. "I started to work the other day at 6:45 in the morning. First prepared my husband's breakfast and lunch. Then did a regular wash-day washing. After that I cleaned our five-room house, which included scrubbing a very large kitchen. Then I baked bread, made butter and did some ironing. After that I drove the tractor for a couple of hours. Then I took care of 300 chickens and prepared the evening meal. I also, throughout the day, took care of my 5-year-old child. I finished work at 8 in the evening."

PASSING BY: Elmer Rice, Playwright. His charming and clever wife, professionally known as Betty Field, just presented him with a daughter who has been named Judith. That's a nice name.

"It's all right, Sir, just making some burnt toast to make the married men feel at home!"

Copyright 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World Rights Reserved.

"——and if I were a man I'd only join the service YOU were in. The Air Force—The Navy—The Army—The Marine Corps."

Surprising more girls are not given it . . . Samuel MacLeary Weller, Veteran theatrical man. During the Spanish American War, Sam was one of Col. Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders . . . Emmett "Red" Ormsby. Once a Major League umpire. I forget whether Mr. Ormsby has 11 or 13 children. Anyway, he holds the prolific father record for all time of those engaged in major league baseball. As far as I know, his nearest competitor was Virgil Garvin, Dodger pitcher, who was the father of eight.

SECRETARIES: To the long list of men who married their secretaries must be added 63-year-old Sir Cuthbert de Hoghton of London. The new Lady de Hoghton is 19 years old. Why do so many men of importance marry their secretaries? We don't know, but have asked our Mules & Men Department to do some research on this query. I knew a bachelor who hired only male secretaries. Asked why not a female secretary, he said: "They try to marry you." However, he hired a feminine secretary. Because she was the daughter of an old and dear friend of his father's. You guessed it. The secretary married him. But that didn't do him any harm. Last time I saw him he was a proud and happy pappy carrying around 18 snapshots of his first son.

OVERLOOKED: When the Nazis invaded Russia they thought only of European Russia. They overlooked Soviet Asia. That was the cause of their downfall. The population, industries and resources of Soviet Asia, which is as large as the United States and Canada combined, had been put on a war basis. If Russia declared war on Japan tomorrow and the resources of Soviet Asia were combined with those of the United Nations, the Japs wouldn't last six months. On the other hand, if at some future date Russia should quarrel with the United States, Soviet Asia would be a threat to this country of no mean proportions.

ASIDES: What is the largest restaurant in the world? I don't know what it is now but up until last month, when it was destroyed in a bombing raid, the Haus Vaterland in Berlin had that distinction . . . Even before the war there were two million more males than females in Great Britain. The British women who are having difficulty in getting husbands are trying to figure out a system of rationing men. For example, they say a woman divorced because of her own misconduct should not be permitted to marry for six years after her divorce, and thus remove another man from circulation. A widow, having had a husband for a period, should not be permitted to marry for two years after her husband's death.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 3—Samuel Goldwyn believes that "Simone," a novel by Lion Feuchtwanger, will be a best-seller when it is published in April.

As soon as he read the galley proofs Sam planked down a fancy figure to buy the Cinderella story for his talented young star, Teresa Wright, thereby putting over a coup in getting the novel before any other company grabbed it.

Feuchtwanger wrote "Power," which had a terrific sale; also "The Ugly Duchess," and so sure is Viking Press, the publishers, that "Simone" will hit the high mark that advance exploitation is being prepared. Joe Swerling is already working on the story, and it is now Sam's idea to make it as soon as Teresa finishes in "Casanova Q. Brown."

SEVERAL YEARS AGO Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer bought the film rights to "The Kansan," by William Rankin. It's the biography of William Allen White, famous editor who died recently. The noted newspaper man told Metro that he had no objection to their making the picture, but he preferred that they wait until after his death. "I'll even die sooner," he wrote, "if it will please you." Well, White is gone now, so there is no longer any reason for M-G-M not to make his life story, which is more interesting than most fiction. So Edwin Knopf will ready it for early production. They'll have to change the title because Paramount recently produced a picture called "The Kansan."

I AM INTERESTED to hear that Ketti Frings has sold her book, "God's Front Porch," to the Theater Guild. Strangely enough, it was offered for sale to the Guild before the movies had a chance to bid, which is surprising since Ketti's story, "Hold Back the Dawn," made such a fine picture. Speaking of the Theater Guild, there was much talk in New York about "Jacobowsky and the Colonel," which was playing in Boston when I was in the East. The wise theater men were saying that it was destined to be a hit and that it was made to order for Annabella.

I'D LIKE to make a prophecy right now that Universal is going in for bigger and better plays, writers and stars this coming year. There is evidence of it already. Just today Byron Brinig, author of "The Sisters," was persuaded to interrupt work on his novel and start writing the screen treatment of "Strangers." This is a dramatic story for Deanna Durbin—perhaps the most dramatic story the little Durbin has ever made. Brinig is not even the author of "Stranger," but he will probably do a terrific job.

NEIL HAMILTON, who is one of the handsomest men in pictures today, has been lent by David Selznick for the stage play, "School for Brides." This is Howard Lang's next play, following his successful "Good Night, Ladies," which is ending a two-year run in Chicago. A great many of our movie friends are in the Lang play, written by Jack Gill and George Brown. The cast includes Neil, Mary Brian, Roscoe Karns and Glenda Farrell—all of them names well known in the movies. The play opens in San Francisco April 16 and then moves East for a try on Broadway. Someone said the other day: "It takes a genius to have a failure these days," so undoubtedly Howard will be "in the chips" with this one.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Lillian Bond, who has been extremely ill with a threatened nervous breakdown, is ignoring the divorce her millionaire husband, Sidney Smith, obtained in Florida. "Sidney has no residence there," she told me, "and my attorney tells me the divorce is not legal." Miss Bond, who filed for her own divorce two months ago, expects to obtain it in California in 10 days. She said that no financial settlement was involved since Smith and she had made all their monetary arrangements when they agreed upon a separation. "Just a matter of personal pride," she explained.

HOLLYWOOD can be very proud of Col. Darryl Zanuck, who has been presented with the Legion of Merit medal for outstanding service in the North African theater of war. This is an honor every military man covets since it is awarded only to those who have rendered meritorious service to the Army. Darryl's friends are very happy and very proud, for he certainly deserves this citation.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Michele Morgan and Bill Marshall have made a date with the stork; Monte Prosser, night club owner, and Jane Ball, 20th Century-Fox actress, are expected to flash an announcement soon; Sonja Henie is an aunt. Her brother Leif became a proud papa and Sonja, her mother and brother were celebrating the happy event with a dinner party. The baby's name is Leif Wilhelm—after Sonja's brother (the papa) and her father; Allan Jones, who has been away from Hollywood six months, is leaving his big show, "Jackpot," and returning to Universal for a movie.

* * *

ARTIE SHAW, released from the Navy, will round up the members of his old band and make with music; Wyn Rocamora has been detained in New York by the serious illness of his brother; John Frederick, not the milliner, but the actor, has joined the Chicago company of "Something for the Boys." He will play "Laddie"; Ida Lupino, who has worried herself sick over Capt. Louis Hayward, whose condition is not improved, is undergoing a series of lab tests; Bonita Granville, choo-choos East and arrives there in time to greet George Raft, who has been overseas; the Henry Fondas' three children are all sick in bed with the measles and Frances has her hands full; a merry dinner party composed of Anita Loos, Marion Kendrics (Anita's favorite newspaper man), Mary Anita Loos, Ernst Lubitsch and Mady Christians. Mady said that she is leaving for New York to do a stage play. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Thursday—We had a most profitable trip down on the train yesterday! I have been accumulating things which had to be dictated and though the roadbed seemed anything but smooth, Miss Thompson managed to take my dictation.

The family had dinner alone, which is an unusual and very pleasant occurrence. We sat and talked until nearly 11:30, which meant that I had to do rather late writing.

* * *

TODAY I HAVE THE LAST of a series of lunches, and after lunch, a group of men from the Army school at Ft. Myer is coming over to give us a half hour's entertainment. This music school is sending musicians out as leaders and members of bands and orchestras all through the Army and among them are some wonderful young composers.

* * *

I WAS ASKED AT MY PRESS conference this morning if I had read Mr. Baruch's report, and I should like to stress something which I think many of us are prone to forget. Excellent reports can be written, the most careful plans can be laid out on paper, but their real value can never be gauged until we see what is actually being done by people out in the field.

This particular report is a far reaching report. It deals with ways and means by which we will return from a state of war to a state of peace, and it attempts to make our present economic structure meet the needs of a situation which we cannot blueprint. Therefore, the people who carry out this plan must have flexibility and imagination. They must be able to take responsibility, to make decisions quickly.

•3 Piece MODERNE LIVING ROOM

In Lustrous Jacquard Velvet

It's a downright shame to sacrifice this gorgeous living room set at so low a price, but the crowded condition of Summerfield's warehouse and stores makes it necessary. Notice the graceful curved modern lines, the beautiful carved panels and legs and the rich texture of the lustrous jacquard velvet covering. It's a set that won't soil easily, that will wear like iron and that is guaranteed for life against moths. And its luxurious spring filled cushions assure you all the comfort you'd want.

Included in the three-piece set are the Large Sofa, Matching Lounge Chair and Contrasting Channel Back Chair.

Italian Laborers Defy Allied Rule

NAPLES, March 3 (AP)—Italian labor leaders advised Allied authorities today of their intention to go ahead with a 10-minute "strike" tomorrow in defiance of an official demand that it be called off.

The strike had been called as a protest against Prime Minister Churchill's recent endorsement of the government of Premier Badoglio.

One American official said if the labor leaders go ahead with their plans for the protest strike it would mean their arrest.

Allied authorities pointed out that strikes in war zones are prohibited by proclamation of the Allied Military Government.

Mussolini Aide Killed

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio said in a domestic broadcast today that Pietro Atti, a member of the puppet Fascist party's "national directorate," had been killed in an automobile accident near the town of Brescia in Lombardy.

Plan Luncheon

By BETTY ALDEN

THE MARCH WINDS are blowing in with a lively luncheon-meeting for friends and members of the Foreign Policy Ass'n tomorrow noon at the Copley Plaza.

Leading the discussion on the topic of the day, "What to do about Germany," will be a wide-awake American newspaperman and radio commentator, Miss Sigrid Schultz of Chicago, who spent a number of pre-war years in Germany. Former director of the Berlin bureau of a Chicago paper and Berlin commentator, for Mutual she has a number of books about Germany to her credit and is on leave from her paper to write another.

Marjorie Ober

On hand to hear her interesting discussion will be Miss Kathryn Newell Adams, Mrs. Arthur Grannis, Mr. John Kenney, Mrs. T. H. Shepard, Mrs. Charles L. Slattery, Miss Edith Winsor, Mrs. Mary C. Ewing, Mr. Fred C. Ingalls, Mrs. Robert Cushman, Mrs. Malcolm Tobey, Mrs. George H. Monks, Mrs. Raynor G. Wellington, Mrs. Layton Holloway, Mrs. Sarah S. Cummings and many more.

★ ★ ★

MARY AND MARJORIE OBER, post deb daughters of Mrs. Julius Ober of Brookline, are typical of the many society girls holding down 9 to 5 jobs and doing all the war work they can on the side. Mary, who had a festive June debut party a few years ago at the family summer home in Scituate, has a responsile drafting job at M. I. T.

Marjorie, her younger sister, came out at the Ritz after graduating from Beaver, later studied at Erskine and landed a splendid job in a downtown bank the day she graduated. Both give as much of their spare time as possible to the Buddies' Club, Stage Door Canteen and Red Cross.

What do you expect from any Beauty Soap?

Soap has just one purpose—to clean. But do you realize the way it cleans is mighty important?

You need lots of lather — rich, creamy lather such as you get with SweetHeart Soap—even in hard water—gentle lather that leaves your skin radiantly clean, your hair delicately fragrant.

Neither SweetHeart nor any other soap can make you beautiful. But pure, mild SweetHeart Soap will cleanse your skin and hair so thoroughly that it allows all the natural beauty you possess to appear.

And here's a big extra you get with SweetHeart. Air dries the oval cake fast, so it lasts longer and stays firm—helps avoid wasteful "jelly" in the wet soap dish.

Get pure, gentle SweetHeart Soap today. It's thrifty to buy and to use.

The soap that agrees with your skin

DON'T WASTE SOAP. Vital war materials are used in making soap. Be sure not to waste it.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of the Meal

Orange Coffee Cake—Meltingly Tender—So Easy to Make

Here's a recipe that's so easy on points, you can treat your family often.

Sift together 2 cups of flour (sift flour once before measuring), 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, and ½ cup sugar. Grate the outermost yellow from the rind of 1 orange and add 1 tablespoon of it to the flour mixture. Add ¼ cup Star Lard and cut in as for biscuits. (You'll find Star Lard mixes faster and easier because it's texturated—an exclusive Armour process that improves Star Lard. Star Lard is easier to measure, too, because it comes in the self-measuring carton. Just cut along dotted lines to get ¼ cup—this saves waste and mess!)

Beat 1 Cloverbloom egg. Add juice of 1 orange mixed with enough water to make ½ cup. Add to flour, mixing just enough to moisten the flour. Spread in oiled 9 or 10 inch layer cake pan. Brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with mixture of 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon or allspice and 1 teaspoon orange rind. Bake at 400° F. for 20 to 30 minutes. Cut and serve hot or cold.

TRACY TOPS IN 'GUY NAMED JOE'

By PEGGY DOYLE

With a blithe disregard for precedent, Metro's No. 1 he-man, Spencer Tracy, is killed off early in the unreeling of "A Guy Named Joe" but, alert to the gay ghost in gossamer gray, his spirit persists in characteristically cocksure way through to the finale.

"A Guy Named Joe" has a lot to recommend it in addition to our favorite screen actor. The current State and Orpheum box-office hit is thoroughly entertaining, boasting sharp, witty dialogue and excellent performances in addition to the always rewarding presence of handsome Irene Dunne. It is when it goes serious, straining at fantasy, that it misses.

As the guy named Joe, a squadron commander at an English base Tracy impersonates a first-rate if unethically reckless pilot whose endless stunting tests the patience and understanding of his superiors and his ever-loving sweetheart, Miss Dunne, a ferry pilot

A plane dive a mere 1000 feet above Essen is the final straw that denotes the undisciplined airman to reconnaissance duty in Scotland. His flying fiancee manages to visit his new station, has a premonition that his number is up and promises to give up a perilous Australian hop if he will return to the United States as an instructor.

It is agreed. In an instant there is a report that an enemy carrier threatens a U. S. convoy 300 miles off port. Ordered to spot it, report its position, Tracy, single-handed, bombs the carrier to destruction . . . and himself into eternity.

But pilots never die. Arrived at the airmen's Valhalla, Tracy is roundly welcomed by an old friend, Barry Nelson, taken to meet the "General," Lionel Barrymore, who assigns him to guide student pilot Van Johnson.

On a New Guinea assignment, young Johnson meets and falls in love with Irene, whereupon the ectoplasmic Tracy develops a very human jealousy.

Ultimately, under "Gen." Barrymore's benign influence, the once devil-may-care guy becomes a magnificent influence in his invisible-man guise.

Another irking item is Miss Dunne's airy disregard for all the rules when she takes over Johnson's risky solo bombing mission against the Japs to save his life and rejoin Tracy in death.

But Tracy's in there punching when she takes over the controls, guiding her unerringly to her blind date with destiny, convincing her to break with the past and begin a bright future with Johnson.

A grand ghost of a guy, as Tracy projects him. Miss Dunne, too, is tops, bridging bright banter to deep desolation with skill and sincerity.

Beatrice Kay Boston's Star

By DON WARD

Beatrice Kay, who makes the gay nineties seem delicious and delightful, is the Gibson girl of your dreams at the RKO-Boston. Miss Kay, who probably couldn't even remember a bicycle built for two, can take the old tunes and make even the jive and jitterbug section love every minute of it.

Miss Bea—who's the Lillie of the U. S. A., sings such plush album affairs as "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "I Don't Care," and such modern melodies as "A Tisket, a Tasket" and "They're Either Too Young or Too Old." Every one's a honey.

It's nice to have the Jan Garber band back in town, too, as "hep" as a juke box, and all brass. Not a string section in the lot.

The band's vocalists are stunning Carol Kay (making a couple of winners) and good-looking Bob Davis.

For the comedy half of the bill there are Ben Carter and Manton Moreland, a couple of lads in sepia, who have gags and patter and eccentric dancing—and all tops.

12th Youth Center Opens In Charlestown Tonight

With student leaders, city and school officials participating in impressive exercises, the 12th Massachusetts Youth Committee school center opens tonight at Charlestown High School.

Recreation reports for their classmates will be submitted by a student committee of six boys and girls, three from the high school, and three from Clarence R. Edwards Junior High School.

Head Master John J. Connolly, Jr., of Charlestown High, will be unable to attend owing to illness He will be represented by his assistant, Ralph C. Benedict. Head Master Albert L. Shaughnessy, Clarence R. Edwards School, will attend.

Members of the student committee representing the school are: Eleanor M. Regan and Charles E. Lenius, speakers; and Joseph A. Carr, who will lead the Salute to the Flag; representing the Clarence R. Edwards School are: Jean Guitarr and Joseph Keefe, speakers, and William Hickey.

Assistant School Supt. Dennis C. Haley will call the meeting to order and introduce School Committeeman Michael J. Ward as chairman. Rev. Mr. T. W. Davison, of Congregational Church, will invoke the Divine blessing, and Rev. William J. Flannagan, of St. Mary's Church, will make a brief address. Both are members of the center advisory committee.

Beauty

Perfect Twins for the Skin

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

TWINS ARE HEAVENLY . . . but most sets of twins, scientists tell us . . . are not identical. Often they have different natures, aptitudes . . . may not even closely resemble one another. Yet one condition is almost certain to hold true about them. They are incomplete . . . unhappy . . . really only half of themselves when separated.

How perfectly this describes a dry skin cleansing cream and toning lotion when one is used without the other. Each product . . . so good in itself . . . so much BETTER together.

Complete cleansing . . . really the basis of all skin beauty . . . becomes a double feature when you use these cosmetic twins. This new cream . . . penetrating, soothing to the tenderest weather-heckled skin . . . has the feel and look of wedding gown satin.

Especially compounded to soften and lubricate the tired, drawn or lined face . . . it will gradually coax your complexion back to the clarity and freshness of a healthy, normal skin. Since it is feather light . . . and, at the same time . . . so rich in beneficial oils . . . it is as good a massage cream as a cleanser. It should be used before making up and at bedtime.

Because a certain amount of natural lubrication is lost by all skins during the day . . . as the result of fatigue and facial tenseness . . . the most thorough cleansing and toning, of course . . . should come at bedtime. That's when a beauty routine becomes a sincere, serious ritual . . . when a gal can pamper herself in the privacy of her bathroom . . . at the same time toying with facial expressions to scrutinize the shaping up of her skin.

So you won't be tempted to cut corners for fear of getting cream in your hair or on your attractive dressing-gown . . . wear a makeup cape . . . or towel . . . or bare your shoulders . . . but cover your hair with a shower cap or band of some sort.

WITHOUT SLIGHTEST TRACE OF DRYNESS

If the air is full of dust and dirt in your neighborhood . . . cream your face generously . . . tissue off . . . and then repeat . . . for the full benefit of this simple but powerful effective and practical beauty routine.

A quick, light tapping with the fingertips under the eyes after you've applied the cream . . . will help immeasurably to forestall those little lines. Let the second application of cream remain on the face and throat for a few minutes . . . to have its goodness sink into your skin.

Use of the toning lotion . . . the twin counterpart of this cream . . . will leave your skin refreshed and exhilarated . . . and without the slightest trace of dryness afterwards. This toning lotion . . . so sparkling and clear . . . looks like fresh strawberry juice . . . and will help refine your skin . . . wake it up . . . and keep it glowing . . . because it COMPLETES the job of cleansing. Don't separate these beauty twins . . . together they are heavenly for your skin.

For the names of these two grand beauty aids, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WAKE UP YOUR SKIN with a cleansing cream . . . and toning lotion . . . to soften and lubricate the tired, drawn or lined face . . . and tone it into sparkling, refreshed radiance. Film Star Ginger Rogers . . . noted beauty . . . poses.

Bride's Family Pays

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN—My son is to be married soon, and I am completely at sea as to who pays the expenses for the wedding. Several of my friends have told me that it is my duty to pay half of the expenses for the reception. Is this so? (I am giving my son a wedding gift of $1000, and I tell you this since it may have some bearing on my question.)—R. M.

Except for a very few details, the expenses for the wedding and the reception are the responsibility of the bride and her family. The bridegroom pays for: the wedding ring; marriage license; wedding present to the bride; bride's bouquet; a corsage for the bride's mother, and a corsage for his mother; the fee or gift to the minister; gifts to his best man and ushers; the rental of the car in which he and his best man come to the ceremony; and the expenses of the wedding trip.

The fact that you are giving a wedding gift of money has no bearing on the wedding expenses, who pays for what. But this gift of money, you know, is given to the bride-to-be, as are all other wedding gifts.

Tunic Popular for Spring

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE tunic, whether it be a coat, a jacket or the upper part of a dress, is a flattering part of the current styles, and deserves widespread popularity.

I particularly like the tunic coat with a sash, a design from that gifted American designer, Norman Norell. This is the tunic at its best, and you can see what it looks like in Miss Dulin's sketch.

This short coat is made of a clear, beautiful shade of beige wool. It has no collar, and the sleeves are bracelet length and loose. The sash is the kind you see on a bathrobe, a band of the material with long fringed ends. It is very graceful. Large buttons fasten the coat to just below the waistline. The beige beret matches the coat, and the black dress and gloves make a nice contrast.

Fashion

MEXICAN INSPIRATION is evident in this two piece dress . . . of brilliant fuchsia blouse and green skirt . . . showing an interesting draped front treatment. With color the watchword of spring fashions . . . this costume will be more than eye-filler wherever and whenever it appears. It is bright, gay and stunning . . . because of the unusual and startling color-combination . . . and its wearer will be decidedly "seen." Warner Star Julie Bishop models—R. M.

Parental Jealousy

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

PUNDITS who spend their lives doping out why we behave like human beings or at least like high class monkeys, have completely overlooked one form of jealousy, that of parents toward each other in rivalry for the affections of children.

Why do John and Susy love Mother better than Father? Or, vice versa, why do they love Father better than Mother? Innumerable letters have come to this column on this heartbreaking question.

There are certain things for which a child instinctively looks toward his mother. When he's sick he wants to be coddled. When he wants to be taught how to cope with the great out-of-doors, Father is his man. Father presumably teaches him how to swim or how to row a boat.

Father has probably taught him how to light a fire with split chips laid in a crib, in a dripping landscape, and the ability to lay a fire will be responsible for their out-of-door supper.

But when it comes to Mother, she has her role in the bringing up of these youngsters, too. She'll teach them when to take off their hats, how to speak decently to guests, to put their overshoes where they'll find them, to hang up their coats. She'll teach them how to eat like human beings instead of savages, to wash behind their ears. And instinctively they'll come to her when the world—the world of school and contemporary gangsters—has been cruel to them.

She'll encourage them to learn how to dance so they won't go to parties and hang 'round the wall.

Wife May Seek Baby Allowance

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 21 years old, and my husband is in the Navy. We just had a baby, and I'm anxious to know how to apply for the baby's allowance. Where may I get an application blank?

(MRS.) H. J. B.

Your husband should apply for the baby's allowance through his commanding officer, who will furnish an application blank. I suggest you write him first and find out whether he applied for the allowance, because it only delays things if both of you apply for it. If he prefers to have you do it, you may get an application blank from your nearest recruiting station, fill it out, and attach a copy of the baby's birth certificate before you send it in.

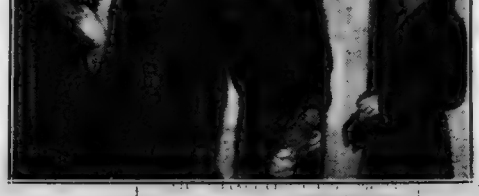
The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES



BE TACTFUL. If your escort asks "Where would you like to go?" make some suggestions . . . but consider his finances. Don't answer "Where do you want to go?" but don't mention the most expensive place in town unless you know he can afford it.

Curried Dishes

IF YOU'RE entertaining thoughts on comp'ny meals, how about curried meat dishes? Veal, lamb or mutton in perfectly-flavored curry sauce are aces for entertaining, for they use low point meats and are extra rich and savory.

Veal and lamb offer other chances for deft seasoning, too, since the mild flavors can use the accent of herbs and spices. Left-over veal or lamb combine well with paprika or mustart in white sauce. Marjoram, oregano, or thyme are good additions to veal stew.

The veal curry in rice which we are giving the recipe for below combines tastily with chutney or sweet pickles. Cabbage slaw sprinkled with celery seed and hard rolls complete the menu.

VEAL CURRY IN RICE RING

2 lbs. veal shoulder or breast
Water
2 tsp. salt
1 clove garlic, minced
½ cup diced celery
3 tbsp. lard or meat drippings
2 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. curry powder
1 large tart apple
1 cup uncooked or 3 cups cooked rice

Cut meat into 1-inch cubes. Cover with water. Add salt. Bring to a boil and simmer about 1 hour. Brown garlic and celery in hot lard. Cook 5 minutes. Stir in flour mixed with curry powder, add chopped apple. Add to veal. Season to taste. Simmer 20 minutes. Arrange hot fluffy rice in ring and fill center with curried veal mixture. Makes 6 servings.

VEAL STEW

2 lbs. neck of veal, cut in pieces
Boiling water
½ tsp. thyme
6 medium-sized potatoes, diced
6 medium-sized carrots, diced
1½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 cups canned peas
3 tbsp. flour
3 tbsp. cold water
Baking powder biscuits

Wash veal and cover with boiling water; add thyme and simmer, covered, 2 hours, or until tender. Add potatoes, carrots and seasonings and cook ½ hour longer; add peas and thicken with flour and water mixed to a smooth paste. Prepare and bake biscuits, split and cover with veal stew. Serves 6.

Veal Curry in Rice Ring

SLICED LAMB IN ANCHOVY SAUCE

8 to 10 slices cooked lamb
Lamb gravy or brown sauce
2 to 3 tsp. anchovy paste
1-3 cup cooking sherry
1 tsp. grated onion
Thyme, marjoram or nutmeg

Remove fat from gravy or make brown sauce. Add the anchovy paste with the seasonings. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes. Add stock or hot water with bouillon cube if sauce is too thick. Add lamb slices and heat gently, preferably over hot water. Serve on toast garnished with slice of lemon or a cube of currant jelly.

SAVORY LAMB CASSEROLE

1 cup finely chopped cooked lamb
1 cup cooked macaroni
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. celery salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
Few drops onion juice
1½ cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Put macaroni in greased baking dish. Cover with lamb to which seasonings have been added. Add milk to eggs and pour over mixture. Bake in 350 deg. F. oven until firm. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

NEW YORK, March 3—Will Jinx Falkenberg marry Steve Kelly, son of Chicago's mayor? . . . Is Anne Shirley giving Victor Mature the brush-off again? . . . Do you know that a syndicate of millionaires is about to buy up all available Miami theaters for pre-Broadway tryouts during "the season" there? . . . Is Marlene Dietrich's daughter headed for Reno, already? . . . Isn't the WPB decision in the Petrillo-recording fight coming down this week? . . . Do you know that the picture companies want to buy Mike Todd's Victor Herbert score, sight unseen—and that he may land a Hollywood producing berth as a result of that scheduled show?

WHAT CINEMA mogul's wife and what prominent psychiatrist are causing raised eyebrows around Gotham? . . . Do you know that Eddie Hall, who came East to marry Helen Forrest, will still be a bachelor when he returns to the West Coast—because they've decided to wait? . . . Have Ruth Waldo's doctors ordered her to Florida to ward off a nervous breakdown? . . . Do you know that Gladys Henson of the English acting family married Harry Wright, the war chemist, in London the other day? . . . Isn't one of the terribly chic magazines about to announce a drastic change in policy, slanting it toward the "average woman" instead of the carriage trade? . . . Are Eddie Cantor and Bob Hope yelling for overseas duty again? . . . Have you heard the rumors from abroad that Maurice Chevalier has been interned in France?

DO YOU KNOW that another disgruntled dramatist (a la Jack Kirkland some seasons ago) tried to slap down a drama critic in 48th st. the other night—and was restrained? . . . Is Ella Logan due back in this country on March 16? . . . Do you keep hearing those storkish (and I don't mean Billingsley's place) rumors about Harry Hopkins and his beautiful bride? . . . HOLLYWOOD, March 3—While patroling I see little incidents that are reminders that Hollywood is like any other town, and that the stuff heroes and heroines are made of is ordinary, even as you and I.

I have seen Hedy Lemarr taking "Jamesie" for a walk in the small park in Beverly, off Sunset Boulevard. Linda Darnell, without makeup on, has rushed into the Schwabadero and asked Leon for something for husband Pev's cold. And Linda picked up a movie magazine, looked through the pages until her package was ready, and then put the magazine back on the shelf.

Barbara Stanwyck

Often I have seen George Raft sitting in a booth at Romanoff's with Mack Gray and heard him say, "Mack, I wish there was a ball game or a prize fight in town tonight so we'd have something to do." And I wondered what about Bonita Granville or any of the cuties that he was romancing. Then George finally says, "well, Mack, let's go over to the Langdon and play some gin." There are those nights when even the heroes are alone and haven't a thing to do—except play gin. Why, I have seen Errol Flynn sitting at the "Stag Table" at Chasen's, eating by himself.

I don't want to imply that Hollywood is a place where a playboy can't get a date, but I do want you to wander along with me and see the heroes and heroines when they are just ordinary and not providing copy.

★ ★ ★

WALKING ALONG Beverly there is Merle Oberon in slacks, and with very little makeup on, going into Bailey's to buy some cake for tonight's dinner. Jack Benny will stop at Martindale's and buy the latest papers, fresh in from New York. Barbara Stanwyck will meet Mrs. Ray Milland in front of Delhaven's, they may even go in for a soda, and they will talk about their respective husbands and the war.

Ann Sothern will go shopping at Saks, or Lana Turner might drop into the Knobby Knit shop and no one will bother them for their autographs. There are no crowds around to mob Miss Oberon or Miss Stanwyck or Miss Sothern or Miss Turner. The shop girls don't get excited. These ladies are all citizens of Hollywood. They are expected to roam the streets, to go shopping.

In New York or Boston or Washington, Marlene Dietrich would be mobbed if she entered a large department store to make a purchase. But when Marlene Dietrich walks into The Broadway-Hollywood, not an autograph hunter attacks her. In fact, when Miss Dietrich writes out a check, the salesgirl has to take it to the head of the department to see if the signature is acceptable. This doesn't apply merely to Miss Dietrich. It goes for any player whose name is in lights.

For, although Hollywood may be the glamour city to the other cities of the United States, the celebrities here are accepted. Mickey Rooney, if he drives through a red light, gets a ticket the same as, well, the same as Alan Ladd.

★ ★ ★

OUT-OF-TOWNERS are the main people who treat the movie stars as celebrities. It is the visitor who says, "You know who was in that car that just passed by? Frank Sinatra!!" You can always tell out-of-towners—they peep into autos.

"Anybody want anything upstairs?"

Anti-Roosevelt Trend

By George E. Sokolsky

THE CONGRESSIONAL election in the 21st district of New York last Tuesday must be studied statistically to appreciate its portent. This is one of the strongest Democratic districts in New York, no Republican having carried it in 24 years. It is the upper Harlem and Washington Heights section of the city, the population being largely Negro, Jewish and Irish. One of its assembly districts, the 21st East, is almost exclusively Negro.

The Democrats have in recent years carried the district by pluralties of between 30,000 and 39,000. On Tuesday, they carried it by a plurality of 1571. But this vote must be broken down further: William S. Bennet, the Republican, received on the Republican line, 10,136 votes; James H. Torrens, the Democrat, received on the Democratic line, 8481 votes. Mr. Torrens was elected by the Communist-controlled American Labor Party, which gave him 3226 votes. The small total vote is characteristic of a by-election on a snowy and sloppy day. The fact remains that in 1942, the Republicans in this district received about 33 per cent of the vote; in 1944 about 46 per cent.

IN THE 21ST assembly district, in which the Negro vote is largest, Bennet received 2039 votes; Torrens, 1369 votes—which gives evidence of a return of Negro sentiment to the Republican party. Of a straight Republican-Democratic vote, the Democrats carried only one of the five assembly districts in this normally Democratic congressional district. It is also to be noted that, although the Communists have during the past 10 years devoted themselves to Negro propaganda, their vote in the 21st assembly district amounted to only 522 out of 3408 votes. Communism's boasted hold on the Negro vote does not show up.

There was only one issue in this campaign, Franklin D. Roosevelt. No other issue was raised by either candidate. Mr. Bennet is a distinguished lawyer and a former member of Congress. Mr. Torrens is a Tammany district leader with no legislative experience.

In a campaign singularly devoid of personal attack or rancor, Mr. Torrens raised the banner of Roosevelt—and asked the voters to stand by the President by electing him to Congress. In 1942, the Democratic plurality was 29,792; in this election with Roosevelt the issue, it was 1571. In 1942, the total vote was 91,384; in 1944, 21,843. The percentage increase, if typical of the city, would give the Republicans here a landslide in a presidential election.

A FURTHER POINT needs to be made. The Republicans have been particularly weak in the distribution of patronage to party workers, especially among the lower level positions which build political clubs. Gov. Dewey, although in office more than a year, has been as scrupulous in his appointments, utilizing the State Police to scrutinize each candidate for a job, that many Democrats remain in these positions, to the disappointment of Republican party workers.

The result naturally is that many Republicans, who have been waiting 20 years for the party to return to power in the state, are disappointed and do not give to campaigning the essential enthusiasm which in such a district as this means door-bell ringing and apartment house stair-climbing to get the vote out.

★ ★ ★

FOR YEARS, the Communist A. L. P. has held the balance of power in New York City because of its ability to give Democratic or Republican candidates endorsements which amount to elections. Communists engage in bloc voting rather than in American individual voting. The time has come for the Legislature of the State of New York to provide an honest American election by outlawing this European type of bloc blackmail by forbidding the appearance of a candidate's name on more than one line of the ballot.

Sling Shot Gift To Draftee

BROCKTON, March 3 (AP)—"Connie" Lyons, Brockton Enterprise police reporter, took his initial step in his hunt for Germans or Japs equipped with a sling shot—supplied by police.

The sling shot was presented to "Connie" as he departed with other inductees.

And, incidentally, "Connie," who had covered the departure of many others without ever being late, was the last to arrive at the selective service office. Officials said he offered "the time-worn excuse"—that his automobile broke down.

34 Olympics' Harrington Rates Big League Post

By HUCK FINNEGAN

WHAT DOES a fellow have to do to make hockey's big league? In mind is Leland Kittredge Harrington, whose Olympics will be seeking their 35th win in 37 starts when they tangle with New York's Rovers at the Garden tonight. Already the 'Pics have clinched the Hershey, Boardwalk and Walker Cups, compiled the best won-lost record in Eastern League history. They have done this after giving 150 men to the armed forces, with a team that never has the same forward line in two successive games.

As far back as '38 Harrington was named "coach of the year" by hockey writers after his 'Pics had won the U. S. amateur championship, then licked Provincial Leaguers Valleyfield and Sherbrooke twice each in post-season games. That was the first year, incidentally, that an amateur hockey team drew a full house of 15,000 at the Garden. Harrington has made it a habit since.

Harrington

It would seem, from his record, that he should be named "perennial coach of the year." Imagine the rapid turnover of material caused by 150 men going into the armed forces in two years! Yet the 'Pics keep winning and winning, and if you think they are beating set-ups look over the roster of the Coast Guard sextet, which they have defeated thrice in four starts: Frankie Brimsek, Johnny Mariucci, Art Coulter, Alex Motter, Ossie Amundsen, all big leaguers, and Bud Cook, Manny Cetlow of the American League.

Boston Talent

THE WELL-MET Mr. Harrington has been performing such miracles for so long that they go unnoticed. And he's done it mostly with Greater Boston talent. One thing: He has done more to develop U. S. hockey players than any other man in America.

If you go back to the early '20's you may recall Harrington as an all-round athlete at Melrose High—crack quarterback and shortstop, the best hockey player of his time. Remember when Melrose, undefeated in '23, invited the Earl Gray School of Canada down for a post-season game? The Canadians grabbed a 3-2 decision in a torrid game at the Arena before it leaked out that the "school" they represented was as mythical as Salem Trade. Yes, a bunch of semi-pros.

So talented was Harrington as a schoolboy that the B. A. A. grabbed him, and he played on the "Kid line" with Tubber Cronin and Duke Geran. Then the pros came to town, and he went right up. He scored four goals (two called back) in his debut as a Bruin, scored seven (four called back) in a game at Toronto later. But Art Ross and he didn't hit it off in those days, and Harrington was shipped to New Haven, later Providence, and he remained in the Can-Am League six years. Twice he led the league in scoring, twice was runner-up. Later he played with Les Canadiens.

That extended stay in Rhode Island now seems to have been a break for the Melrose lad, disappointed as he must have been at the demotion. For while playing with the Reds he started coaching at Mt. St. Charles High and has been coaching since. When Walter Brown took over the Garden in '36, he was determined to revive amateur hockey. He made Harrington coach of the Olympics, got them admitted to the Provincial League, saw them flourish.

Shows Them How

HARRINGTON took Greater Boston boys like George Ford and Frankie Spain, tutored them so expertly that they finished second against senior Canadian entries. His teams grew stronger yearly as Buddy Foster and Jim Feeley came in from Dartmouth, Ray Fortin from Colby. Two years ago Art Ross gave him a lift by loaning him Canadians Jack McGill, Jake Wade, Lloyd Gronsdahl, and the 'Pics raced out to an 11-game lead. But they came back to the field when Ross recalled the trio and when enlistments further reduced their personnel. However, they did succeed in tying for first place.

Last season Harrington lost team after team through enlistments and did well to finish third. This year Joe Schmidt, Tom Brennan, Russ Kopak, Alan Rittinger, Guy Labrie and Clarence Schmidt have been up and down so often they don't know whether they belong to the 'Pics or Bruins; yet despite these handicaps the 'Pics win and win and win.

How does he do it? Well, for one thing he's the only coach in the business who gets out on the ice and shows his players how things should be done. For another he's a smart handler of men, being either tough or playful as occasion demands.

He's made such a runaway of this year's race one wonders what he might have done had he Vic Polich in goal, Ty Andersen, Junie Stubbs, Al Yourkewicz, and Bill Splaine on defense; Paul Guibord, Frankie Spain, George Ford, and Gerry Desrosiers, Bud Foster and Dick Lewis up front. All Americans, all but Polich local boys.

The time is not far distant when Harrington's Greater Boston all-stars will be able to hold their own with any entry in the National Hockey League. Wonder if he'll get a big league job then?

Changing Goalies Put Top Teams in Playoff

By BILL GRIMES

You cannot convince Jack Adams, Paul Thompson or Hap Day that the old bromide "never change horses in the middle of a stream" is sound advice. If the Red Wings, Blackhawks and the Maple Leafs hadn't changed goal minders in the middle of this N. H. L. hockey season, they'd be below the Bruins in the standings, engaged in a three-cornered battle for two berths, instead of in the playoffs.

Managers Adams, Thompson and Day were smart enough to realize that unless they dug up replacements for Jimmy Franks, Hec Highton and Benny Grant, respectively, their bosses would have them in on the carpet.

TRIO AIDED BY CHANGES

During the time that Jimmy Franks was in the nets for the Red Wings opponents beat him for an average of 4.59 goals per game. Hec Highton did a little better for his average of goals against was 4.50 and Benny Grant's was 4.42.

Just as soon as Connie Dion, Mike Karakas and Paul Bibeault took over the goal tending berths, the Red Wings, Blackhawks and Maple Leafs started to climb. Of that trio, Karakas has compiled the best record with an average of 2.77 for goals against, with Bibeault averaging 2.97 and Dion 2.83. But, the Red Wings have won twelve tied two and lost only four since Dion took over, while the Hawks had been on the winning end of 10 tilts, tied four and lost an equal number with Karakas in the nets. The Maple Leafs have been below the .500 mark since Bibeault replaced Benny Grant, 10 wins, 11 defeats and two ties.

Les Canadiens is the only club in the league that didn't have goal tender trouble this season, Bill Durnan, who came out of the so-called amateurs last fall, has allowed only 88 goals in 42 games, for an average of 2.10. On the other hand, Ken McAuley who has been in the nets for Rangers in all 43 games has been beaten 262 times, which is 6.09 but Manager Lester Patrick hasn't made any worthwhile efforts to remedy the deplorable situation.

ROSS BID REFUSED

Before the opening of the season, Art Ross, upon learning that Paul Bibeault was going to be discharged from the Canadian Army tried to purchase the former Les Canadiens' goalie. Because he believed that Boston was the club his Canucks had to beat to win the Prince of Wales trophy, Tommy Gorman, general manager of the Montreal Forum, refused Ross' offer for Bibeault but did sell him Bert Gardiner.

Bruins have used four goalies this season, Bert Gardiner, George Abbott, Maurice Courteau and Jimmy Franks. Abbott and Franks lost their only starts to Toronto and Detroit, respectively, while Courteau was twice beaten by the Hawks and once by Toronto but he did win a verdict over Chicago on his third time out.

Bert Gardiner has broken even going into last night's game in Chicago but he is now under the .500 mark with 16 wins, 17 defeats and four ties. But, his goals against average is too high, if the Bruins expect to reach the playoffs, 5.03.

Trailing by eight points with only seven games remaining to be played, the Bruins are going to miss the big money series for the first time in exactly 10 years unless they snap out of their slump which was extended last night to six games.

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Chicago 4, BOSTON 2.
Detroit 6, New York 5.

Hawks Tame Bruins By 4-to-2 Count

CHICAGO, March 3 — The Bruins went down to a 4-to-2 defeat before the Blackhawks at the Chicago Stadium, where 11,913 fans had gathered to root their favorites back into a third-place tie with the Maple Leafs.

The defeat, which was their sixth straight and the fifth in nine starts against the Hawks, practically eliminated the Bruins from the Stanley Cup playoffs. And, with eight games to play and four games out of fifth place, Chicago cannot miss the big money series.

Three minutes before the close of the first period, Frank "King" Clancy, the referee, was struck on the knee with the puck and felled. Clancy required medical attention and retired to the first aid room for treatment. Because Clancy was unable to continue, the players retired to their dressing rooms and the unexpired time (three minutes) was added to the second period.

Skiing Fair, Good in N. E.

Typical spring skiing conditions were reported in much of New England today, with granular snow at lower levels and winter powder on the heights.

New Hampshire—Eastern slope region (Pinkham Notch) 65 total, with wind-packed powder serface, trails hard, skiing good; Franconia (Cannon Mountain) 35 to 58 packed base, loose granular surface, skiing fair to good; Peterboro, 10 corn, skiing fair; Temple Mountain, 14 frozen granular, skiing fair; Plymouth, 20 to 30 corn surface, skiing fair to good.

Vermont — Manchester (Snow Valley) 35 to 47 frozen granular, skiing fair to good on all slopes and trails; Rutland (Pico Peak) 50 total, four powder surface, skiing excellent

Massachusetts — Berkshire region (Mount Greylock) 12 to 14 granular, skiing fair to good.

Keltner to Quit Defense Plant For Diamond

CLEVELAND, March 3 (INS) —The Cleveland Indians today had a signed contract and verbal assurance from Ken Keltner, their star third baseman, that he intends to play baseball this season despite a 2-B draft deferment.

Keltner told Vice-Pres. Roger Peckinpaugh of the Tribe in a telephone conversation that he planned to quit his war job in a Milwaukee foundry and report for spring training.

"If the Army wants me," Keltner declared, "that's okay, but I'm a ballplayer by trade and I'm going to play ball until I'm called."

Hoop Class in Tech Tilts

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Somerville and Waltham high schools, tops in basketball in Greater Boston ranks, will be leading the way into Class A competition when the annual Tech Tourney gets underway at the Garden Wednesday.

Both will be boasting records of 15 victories against no defeats, winners of their respective leagues—Somerville in the Greater Boston circuit and Waltham in the Suburban loop.

There was little or no surprise connected with the eight selections. All had been running in front all season. Haverhill and Medford were forced choices. Haverhill, second to Lynn English in the Essex County standings, was named because of the ineligibility of the English outfit while Medford, with a 10-4 record, was named to fill the field of eight. The Mystics ran second to Somerville in the GBI league standings.

"CIVIL WAR" MATCHES

Four teams from the "north" of the Hub will be waging a civil war with clubs from the "south" side as Attleboro, defending champion, Brockton, New Bedford and North Quincy will be the other half of the eight entries.

Somerville must be installed a pre-tourney favorite. Coach Vin Cronin's boys have been more than impressive in tallying 785 points against 416 for the opposition.

Waltham as the only other undefeated club in the play, has tallied 570 points against 357 for its rivals.

Season's records for the others find Attleboro, 15-2; Brockton, 12-3; Haverhill, 12-3; Medford, 10-4; New Bedford, 11-4, and North Quincy, 10-2.

HOCKEY TITLE PLAY

Schoolboy hockey fans will be getting their final glimpses of their favorites tonight with the opening round of the Metropolitan championship (?) play getting under way at the Arena with a pair of contests. Medford will be squaring off against St. Patrick's (not eligible to win the crown) while Hudson will tangle with Needham.

The district finals tomorrow afternoon at the Armory shape up as one of the best meets of the year and figures to be pretty close between Hyde Park and Brighton.

The dark horse of the meet is East Boston that qualified 24 boys but in order to win the Noddle Islanders will have to take most of the first and second places. Their 12-point total for the field events, Medley and two lap relays will handicap them considerably.

Dietrich of Chisox Accepted for Service

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 (AP) —Bill Dietrich, Chicago White Sox pitcher, has been accepted by the Army for limited service following a pre-induction examination here.

Dietrich, who suffered a skull fracture in a baseball game years ago, is married and has two children.

Sharkey Praises French Welter

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) —Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight champion of the world, tabbed Marcel Cerdan, French welterweight, as the outstanding prospect of the Allied boxing tournament which he refereed in Algiers.

Sharkey and Freddy Cochrane, tournament manager for the Professional Golfers Ass'n, arrived in New York yesterday after a three-month tour of North Africa and Italy. Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, former Yankee star southpaw, who accompanied them, returned Feb. 17.

Bobo Grabs First Word, Last Too, on Poor Connie

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 (AP)—Connie Mack, for all his 81 years, wouldn't for the world admit he's slipping, but—A 35-year-old citizen of Hartsville, S. C., strode into Shibe Park yesterday and not only outtalked Connie before a battery of newsmen but plumped himself down in Connie's personal chair and proceded to hold court.

At the end of nearly three hours of vague discussions, during which Pitcher Bobo Newsom said practically everything except yes to Connie's suggestion that a contract be signed, Newsom, Mack and the newsmen were agreed that if Bobo pitches this summer it will be for the Athletics.

BUSINESS FOR BOBO

The only hitches seemed to be a possibility that Newsom might "go into business" (he didn't specify what) or that he might not be able to work himself into peak physical condition.

Bobo, accompanied by his bride of two months, the former Ruth Griffith of McKeesport, indicated that he would give Mack a definite answer in a few days.

Nobody said anything about the number of dollars Newsom might earn by toiling for Mack and the Athletics, but Connie hinted that Bobo could have the same salary he was paid by the Senators last year, and furthermore that it would be tops for the club.

"Oh," said Bobo, with an expressive shrug. "I guess we're agreed on money. That right, Mr. Mack?"

IT'S UP TO BUCK

"Why," Connie said, "ah, yes, I guess so. It's up to you, Buck."

Once when Bobo left the room, Connie absent-mindedly dropped into his swivel chair, but before Bobo returned the Athletics' manager had gone back to a settee against the wall. When it was all over, Connie remarked rather wistfully:

"I haven't got a word in edgewise."

Pics, Rovers Here Tonight

Olympics open a three-games-in three days stretch at the Boston Garden tonight when they entertain the New York Rovers. Face-off is called for 8:30 p. m.

The local team will skate in Philadelphia tomorrow night and return to the Garden Sunday afternoon for a match with the Philadelphia Falcons. The Sunday matinee tilt between the Pics and the Falcons will conclude the regular Eastern League season for the locals, who, for the first time since they started playing league hockey, have won a championship. They swept all three Eastern League trophys in their parade to the title. The Hershey Cup, the Boardwalk Cup and the James Walker Cup will reside in the Boston Garden Trophy Room for a year at least.

Boston will be going after consecutive victory number nine when they skate against the Rovers. They have already racked up 34 league triumphs against only two defeats.

Navy Five to Meet Quincy Here Sunday

Braves Sign Ben Geraghty

Ben Geraghty, who started the 1943 season as a utility infielder for the Stengelman, has signed and returned his Braves' contract to President Bob Quinn.

While they were with the Brooklyn Dodgers back in 1936, Bob Quinn and Casey Stengel gave Ben Geraghty his start in the National League. For three years, Geraghty starred at Villanova and when he was graduated Bob Quinn signed him to a Dodger contract. After a short tryout with Brooklyn, Geraghty was sent to Allentown but was recalled and went to the Dodgers' training camp at Clearwater, Fla., the following spring.

After kicking around for a few years, Geraghty had a jam with Joe Cambria and quit baseball. He went out to the Pacific coast and went to work in a ship yard helping to build battleships.

During the off season a year ago, Ben met Casey Stengel on the coast and asked for a chance to stage a comeback. Stengel always liked Geraghty and brought Ben East last spring. Geraghty has never been a rugged individual and the strenuous work in the ship yard whittled him down to the featherweight class.

Yesterday, the Braves received Phil Masi's signed contract. As usual, Masi has been working during the off season and he will be in A-1 shape when he reports at the Choate School in about a fortnight.

Anthem Stops Riot of Fans

WORCESTER, March 3 (AP)—Play during a professional basketball tournament at the Memorial Auditorium between a Negro team and a white team grew so heated that blows were struck.

Some of the 2000 spectators ran on the floor and began their own fisticuffs.

Thereupon the auditorium organist, John Cuthe, bore down full might upon the keys and the massive instrument nearly shook the walls with the opening strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Flexed fists unfolded.

Play resumed in a few minutes, in peace.

3 Ten-Rounders On at Mechanics

Johnny Finnazzo of Baltimore, 19-year-old ring performer, will tackle Berlie Lanier of Philadelphia tonight in the headlined 10-round event of a 40-round Callahan A. C. card at Mechanics Building.

Red Doty of Hartford and Joe Sulick of New York meet in the secondary 10-rounder. Both these bouts match tough, aggressive "club" type workmen.

Sammy Daniels, also a Baltimore product, will be in the third ten-rounder with Joey Gombara of New York. Gombara replaces Bobby Claus.

In the six, it will be Sammy Maltempo of Manchester, Ct. against Freddie Beshore of the Newport Naval Base. Archie Goodbee of Hartford and Young Beau Jack of Baltimore will open the card with a four-rounder.

Seven 4-F Players On Dodger Roster

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' player roster rolled off the presses today revealing that the club with 30 men is one above the 1943 quota.

Of the 12 pitchers, six infielders, eight outfielders and four catchers listed, only six did not wear a Brooklyn uniform some time during last season. Seven men are listed in the 4-F group, four are over age and two have been discharged from the armed service.
